ORGANIZATION.

The University embraces at present the following Departments:

- I. THE PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.
- II. THE CLASSICAL COURSE.
- III. THE SCIENTIFIC COURSE.
- IV. THE SCHOOL OF MODERN LANGUAGES.
- V. THE DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY.
- VI. THE LAW SCHOOL.
- VII. THE DEPARTMENT OF PRACTICAL ARTS.

I. PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

The curriculum of this school embraces a course of three years and is designed to prepare young men for admission into the College classes. The students are under the same regulations and enjoy the same advantages as in the University. The methods of instruction and the courses of study conform and lead directly to the College curriculum, thus making the school a natural and easy door to the University. Students bearing certificates of proficiency from this school are received into the College classes without further examination and the student who reaches the maximum in scholarship is entitled to certain privileges in the College.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Third Class.—Arithmetic; Geography; English Grammar; (primer); United States History; Reading; Writing; Spelling; Composition; Elocution.

Second Class.—Arithmetic, (Sanford's Higher); English Grammar and Composition; United States History; Primer of Roman History, (Creighton); Latin Grammar; Latin Reading and Composition; Goodwin's Greek Grammar with White's Exercises; Seeman's Mythology. Reading; Writing; Spelling; Composition; Elocution.

First Class.—Arithmetic, Algebra; English Grammar, (R. Morris); General Grammar, (Roemer); Synonyms, (Reid); Greece, (Fyffe); England, (Anderson); Mediæval Civilization, (Adams); Latin Grammar and Composition. Cæsar; Virgil; Nepos; Greek Grammar and Composition; Anabasis; Mythology. Spelling; Composition; Elocution.

II. THE CLASSICAL COURSE.

This Course is a carefully arranged curriculum and affords a thorough intellectual equipment and discipline, and gives an adequate preparation for the practical affairs of life. The student completing this course will have a broad and deep foundation upon which to build to excellence in any profession or calling in life. Premature specialization is a mistake and young men are urged to take the regular Classical Course and having finished it, then choose some specialty upon which to employ the powers of a well trained mind.

Students who satisfactorily complete the Classical Course receive the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Admission.—In order to matriculate, the applicant must be at least fourteen years of age, must give evidence of good moral character, of a disposition to submit to the obligations and discipline of the University, and of qualification to enter some class.

To enter the Freshman Class, the student must be thoroughly drilled in the Latin declensions and conjugations, be able to translate intelligently, and parse accurately the Latin Reader and Cæsar, and have practiced in translating simple English sentences into Latin. In Greek he must be thoroughly acquainted with the declension of nouns and the conjugation of the verb, and be able to translate and parse readily the Greek Reader containing Fables, Mythology, etc., and to translate easy English sentences into Greek. The accent must be insisted on. He must be proficient in Arithmetic, Elementary Algebra to quadratic equation, English Grammar, Geography and writing from dictation.

To enter any of the higher classes he must give satisfactory evidence of having successfully completed the studies of the preceding part of the Curriculum.

Study of English Classics.

III. THE SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

To meet the demand of patrons who prefer a shorter course at College this curriculum has been arranged. It bears directly upon the practical affairs of life where the pursuits chiefly require the application of the principles of mathematics or scientific research.

Students who satisfactorily complete this Course receive the Degree of Bachelor of Science.

To enter the Scientific Course the applicant should understand Geography, English Grammar, Higher Arithmetic, Elementary Algebra, Latin Reader and Cæsar, and should be fifteen years of age.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

Gase's French Dictionary and Whitney's German Dictionary are recommended.

V. THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT.

A carefully prepared course of study in Systematic Theology, Biblical Interpretation and Homiletics has been adopted for the benefit of students who desire exclusively Theological instruction. The Course will be accommodated to the grade of culture attained by applicants.

Ministerial students who pursue the regular College curriculum and are candidates for degrees, may have the privilege of substituting theological studies for certain branches of the literary course without impairing their right to graduation. This modification of the curriculum, for the benefit of College students preparing for the ministry, is made under direction of the Faculty, and is pursued without detriment to the intellectual discipline of the students. Thus a good foundation of theological knowledge may be gained, while no essential secular study is omitted.

VI. LAW SCHOOL.

HON. EMORY SPEER,

Judge of the United States Circuit Court for the Western Division of the Southern District of Georgia.

WALTER B. HILL, A. M., LL. B.

CLEM P. STEED.

Diplomas and Degrees of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred by authority of the Act of the General Assembly. By this Act "any person having, from the proper authorities of Mercer University, in this State, a Diploma of Graduation in the Law School of said University, shall be authorized to plead and practice in all the Courts of law in this State, without further examination."

The access which the students of Mercer Law School have to the City, County, Circuit, State and United States Courts, gives them great advantages, and makes them familiar with the rules of the Courts and enables them from the beginning of their professional practice to pursue their life-work successfully and without embarrassment.

VII. THE DEPARTMENT OF PRACTICAL ARTS.

Arrangements have been made to give instruction in Stenography, Telegraphy, Book-keeping, Banking, etc. Young men who are determined to take only a business course, or regular students who desire to be expert also in these arts, can be accommodated. But students who take any of the above studies must also take at least two studies in the regular course, choosing such as will be most beneficial to them in their calling in life.

The following extract is from the minutes of the late session of the Board of Trustees: "We are anxious to provide this special training in connection with the College course, believing that a broader culture than is usually given at business colleges, will add greatly to the efficiency of the business man."

HEARN INSTITUTE.

R. G. HARTFIELD, A. M PRINCIPAL.

This School, the property of the Georgia Baptist Convention and the Preparatory School of Mercer University for Northwestern Georgia, is established in the beautiful and healthful village of Cave Spring, sixteen miles from Rome, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad. Its situation among the mountains of Northwestern Georgia, at the head of the fertile and lovely Vann's Valley, its salubrious climate and excellent society, eminently fit it for a school center.

ADVANTAGES.

A Course of Instruction sufficiently extensive and carefully arranged, firm, wholesome discipline, thorough instruction, and cheap rates of board and tuition, are the advantages offered by this School to those who have sons to educate.

Pupils bearing a certificate of proficiency from the Principal, are admitted without examination, to whatever class in Mercer University their certificates recommend them.

A Boarding Department, presided over by the Principal, is connected with this School. The Boarding Department and school rooms are under the same roof. Hence, pupils boarding here are constantly under the supervision of the Principal, and are received and cared for as his own family.

No intoxicating liquors have ever been sold in Cave Spring, and the charter of Hearn School, together with the charter of the town, prevents its sale in the future.

A special practical Course of Study, including book-keeping, is arranged for those who do not desire graduation.

EXPENSES.

Board, including furnished room, bedding, fuel and lights, per month	$10 00
Tuition, per month	$2.00, $3.00 and 4 00

Pupils have their own washing done.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

ENTERING.

Young men expecting to enter College are advised to be present at least one or two days before the opening of the term for examination and for making arrangements for rooms and boarding. A few days lost at the beginning of a term work great injury to the student. Yet, students who stand a satisfactory examination may be received at any time, but there are certain advantages and honors accessible only to those who are present at the beginning of the term and remain to its close.

FEEES.

The student having registered and been examined will be required before entering his class to pay all fees assessed for his studies. In the Classical, and Scientific, and Theological Departments TUITION IS FREE, but a matriculation and contingent fee amounting to $20.00 annually is charged; $8.00 payable at the opening of the Fall Term, September 24th, and $12.00 payable first of January. In Modern Languages Tuition is charged; for the Fall Term $10.00 and for the Spring Term $15.00 payable at the beginning of those terms. In the Preparatory Department Tuition is $4.00 per month.

AID TO CERTAIN CLASS.

The Baptist Convention of the State of Georgia holds a fund for education distinct from the Endowment Fund. By this means young men of limited circumstances, who have been licensed for the Gospel Ministry, may be materially aided. Applications for the benefit of this provision should be made to Dr. S. P. Sanford, Secretary of the Executive Committee, Macon, Ga. The applicant should forward evidences, from his Pastor and church, of his character, capacity and calling. He should also state how much aid he will need, for since this fund is limited it is necessary to practice economy in its disbursement. It is intended to help them who are doing their best to help themselves. Young men who do not show decided piety, and give proof of diligence in study and attain to a fair standing in their classes will not be retained upon the charges of this fund. Apt to learn as well as "apt to teach" must be a qualification of the beneficiary.

A FUND, the bequest of Mr. James M. Gray, is held for the benefit of young men from Jones county. The following regulations have been adopted respecting applications for aid from this fund:

1. Applications for the benefits arising from the GRAY FUND must be addressed to the President or Secretary of the Faculty, substantially in this form :

I a young white man, of the age of . . . years, of the county of State of Georgia, respectfully ask to share in the provision made by the late J. M. Gray, of Jones county, Georgia, for the education of worthy indigent young men in Mercer University. I desire aid to the extent of being provided with which neither my parents are able to pay for nor myself.

The last blank in the body of the application may be filled by inserting the words Tuition and Board, or either of these items, according to the need of the applicant.

2. All applications for the Fall Term, (October—December), must be made by September 10th next preceding ; and for the Spring Term, (January—June,) by December 10th, next preceding.

3. The applicant should be at least fourteen years of age if applying for the Freshman Class, and of proportionately advanced age if he aspires to a higher class. He must be prepared in scholarship at least for the Freshman Class, or for the first year in the Scientific Course.

4. He must present the certificate of a committee consisting of the Ordinary of the county, the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, or Judge of the County Court, and one other respectable citizen of the county, testifying that the applicant is of good moral character, and unable to pay the expenses of his education as expressed in his application.

5. The beneficiary, in every case, shall be decided by a competitive examination of all the candidates who are eligible under the provisions of the bequest, due notice of the vacancy having been given by the Secretary of the Faculty.

6. Applicants from Jones county shall, in all cases, have precedence ; and to this end those from other counties shall be received for one year at a time, with the privilege of renewal from year to year, in case of a deficiency of applications from Jones county.

7. The bills for Board and Tuition must be properly made out and presented to the officer appointed for that purpose.

The amounts allowed each full beneficiary are as follows: Thirteen dollars per month for board ; sixty-five dollars per annum for tuition and incidentals.

Beneficiaries under this fund will be expected to pay all they can towards their own expenses. The benefits of this fund are intended only for the poor and worthy, and parents of pupils who are able to pay all, or a part of their expenses, must do so. Beneficiaries of this fund must show marked diligence and make progress in their studies or they will not be retained.

HIAWASSEE High School holds a scholarship in the University, free from all charges, which is awarded by the teacher in that school to the student for superior scholarship.

BOARD AND LODGING.

Students who desire to do so can lodge in cottages erected on the University premises and board at the Students' Hall or in private families as they choose. By furnishing and caring for his own room the price of board has been greatly reduced—many of the students found satisfactory board last term at $8.00 per month. But the charges vary, according to the taste and means of the student, from the lowest figure, $8.00, to the highest, $18.00 per month. These rooms are given to the students free of rent, but the occupant is responsible for all damage done to the room during his occupancy.

The Prudential Committee have made arrangements by which the Boarding Department of the College will be under the management and control of Mrs. Geo. R. McCall. The patrons are to be congratulated on having an opportunity of placing their sons in a boarding house directed by a woman of such culture and powers of discipline.

DEGREES.

The Degree of A. B. is conferred upon students who satisfactorily complete the Classical Curriculum. The Degree of B. S. is conferred upon those who, in like manner, complete the Scientific Course. The Degree of B. L. is conferred upon those who, in a satisfactory manner, complete the studies of the Law Course. The Degree of A. M. is conferred upon those College graduates who give satisfactory evidence of proficiency in a post-graduate course of one year, known as the Master's course. The Degree of Ph. D. is conferred upon College graduates who give satisfactory evidence of proficiency in a two years' course of special post-graduate studies.

Those who desire the Degree either of A. M. or Ph. D. can gain full information respecting the course by applying to the President, or the Secretary. The only honorary degrees conferred by the University are those of D. D. and LL. D.

Diploma fee is $5.00 for A. B. or B. S., and $10.00 for each of the other degrees.

REPORTS.

Reports in general terms of the standing of each student will be made to the parent or guardian every six weeks. Reports showing the exact standing will be made at the close of each term. Parents will thus be kept acquainted with the progress of the students and their help is solicited in securing the best results and greatest success for the students.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS.

$25,554.13---Permanent Educational Fund, held in trust by the Georgia Baptist Convention, the interest on which is used in assisting worthy young men who are preparing for the ministry.

$11,000.00---The Jane Posey Fund, the gift of the noble Christian woman whose name it bears. The interest on this sum has been a blessing to many young men, and not a few now fill high stations who owe much of their success in life to the benefits received from this fund.

$8,200.00---The General Theological Fund.—This sum was made up by small contributions from many sources and is used for the support of the Theological Chair. The interest on this amount is supplemented annually by voluntary contributions from brethren, and thus makes the salary of that Professor.

$13,900.00---The Central Professorship Fund, was raised by the Central Association and the interest is used in supporting the faculty. How easily could every association in the State raise a similar fund and what untold good might be perpetually accomplished.

$18,050.00---The Centennial Fund, was raised during the Baptist Centennial in Georgia and represents the gifts of hundreds of brethren and sisters, who desire the prosperity of Mercer University. This fund is increased annually by the collection of subscriptions which were made during the Centennial.

$74,900.00.--The Mercer Fund, is the aggregation of many large and small gifts made by the founders of Mercer and our fathers. It has been most wonderfully preserved through the wars and financial panics, and is regularly making a contribution to the learning, manhood and civilization of the times. The interest on this fund is constantly building monuments of thought and character to the honor and memory of the generous benefactors.

$26,125.00.--The Gray Fund was a legacy left by Mr. James M. Gray to Mercer University. The disposition to be made of the interest accruing upon this fund can be seen on another page. It is proving a great blessing to the young men for whom it is intended. Truly it is a wise investment, treasure laid up in heaven, and his recompense is an eternal reward in joy and peace.

$50,000.00. The Trustees have ordered the raising of this amount immediately. It might well be termed the "Emergency Fund," for the demands of the age are such that Mercer University cannot meet her responsibilities and hold her position in the forefront among the educational institutions of the times without it. Already $12,500.00 have been secured in cash and good subscriptions. The Alumni Association agreed at their late annual meeting to raise from among themselves during the year, $10,000.00—which will make nearly half of the proposed amount. We look to generous hearted friends to raise the balance, and we hope before the next catalogue is issued to be able to record that the full amount has been realized and profitably invested.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Additions to the Faculty.--By reference to the Board of Instructors, it will be seen that the Trustees have added the following Chairs: PHYSIOLOGY and HYGIENE; LATIN, and MODERN LANGUAGES. These positions have been filled by men who are known to be thoroughly competent and are specialists in their respective departments.

New Features.—Attention is also called to the Department of THE PRACTICAL ARTS, in which students who desire it, can receive a thorough training for business life, with the opportunity of a broad mental culture.

Board of Visitors.—The Trustees have requested the Georgia Baptist Convention to appoint a Board of Visitors to attend the Annual Examination of the College Classes, and to conduct extra examinations at their discretion, and to make awards of merit and excellence by honorable mention and medals. The examination held by them will close on Monday of Commencement Week.

New Building.—A large building with a frontage of one hundred and two feet, and a depth of one hundred and fifty feet, is in process of erection. It will contain a Library Room, a Chapel capable of seating eight hundred or one thousand persons, and several Recitation Rooms, with a Professor's Study attached to each. When this building is completed, the University will have all the class-room accommodations needed for an attendance of five hundred students.

Resignation of Prof. Sanford.

"Whereas, In a letter to the Board of Trustees Prof. SHELTON P. SANFORD, LL. D., has tendered his resignation in language that leaves us no hope that his services can be longer had as Professor of Mathematics in Mercer University; and

"Whereas, His long life of faithful service, embracing a period of fifty-three consecutive years, seems to call for some expression of the feelings of this Board in the premises; therefore be it

"Resolved, By the Board of Trustees of Mercer University, that, deploring the necessity which has led to this course, we accept, with deep sorrow, the resignation which severs his long connection with this University.

"2. That this Board recognizes the invaluable service he has rendered the University from its founding to the present time, and ascribe much of the high distinction which the University enjoys to his consecration to its interests.

"3. That it affords this Board great pleasure to bear testimony to the courtesy and good christian spirit uniformly exhibited by Prof. Sanford in all his intercourse with this Board, with his colleagues in office and with the students of the University.

"4. That we hereby tender our beloved and venerable brother our heart-felt sorrow in the recent bereavement he has sustained in the death of his good wife.

"5. That in the voluntary retirement of Professor Sanford from this University, we desire to assure him that he carries with him, not only the love and confidence of every member of this Board, personally, but the affection and esteem also of hundreds who know him and love him throughout our country.

"6. That we invoke on our dearly beloved brother the continued favor and blessing of our Heavenly Father.

"7. That a copy of this preamble and these resolutions be forwarded to Brother Sanford, and a copy also to the Atlanta Constitution and the Macon Telegraph, for publication.

"S. A. BURNEY,

"W. L. KILPATRICK,

"A. D. FREEMAN,

"Committee.

"Macon, July 14th, 1891."

Organization.

The University embraces at present the following Departments.

- I. THE PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.
 - II. THE CLASSICAL COURSE.
 - III. THE SCIENTIFIC COURSE.
 - IV. THE SCHOOL OF MODERN LANGUAGES.
 - V. THE DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY.
 - VI. THE LAW SCHOOL.
 - VII. THE DEPARTMENT OF PRACTICAL ARTS.

I. Preparatory School.

The curriculum of this school embraces a course of three years and is designed to prepare young men for admission into the College classes. The students are under the same regulations and enjoy the same advantages as in the University. The methods of instruction and the courses of study conform and lead directly to the College curriculum, thus making the school a natural and easy door to the University. Students bearing certificates of proficiency from this school are received into the College classes without further examination and the student who reaches the maximum in scholarship is entitled to certain privileges in the College.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Third Class.—Arithmetic; Geography; English Grammar; (primer;) United States History; Reading; Writing; Spelling; Composition; Elocution.

Second Class.—Arithmetic, (Sanford's Higher;) English Grammar, (Whitney;) United States History, (Derry;) Geography, (Maury;) Easy Latin Lessons, (Lindsay and Rollins;) Gradatim; Reading; Writing; Spelling; Composition; Elocution.

First Class.—Algebra, (Sanford;) Algebra, (Wentworth;) English Lessons, (Lockwood;) History of Rome, (Creighton;) History of England, (Anderson;) Latin Grammar, (Allen;) Latin Exercises Book, (Allen;) Eutopius; Virgil; Nepos; White's Elementary Greek Lessons; Anabasis; Spelling; Composition; Elocution.

II. The Classical Course.

This Course is a carefully arranged curriculum and affords a thorough intellectual equipment and discipline, and gives an adequate preparation for the practical affairs of life. The student completing this course will have a broad and deep foundation upon which to build to excellence in any profession or calling in life. Premature specialization is a mistake and young men are urged to take the regular Classical Course and having finished it, then choose some speciality upon which to employ the powers of a well trained mind.

Students who satisfactorily complete the Classical Course receive the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Admission.—In order to matriculate, the applicant must be at least fourteen years of age, must give evidence of good moral character, of a disposition to submit to the obligations and discipline of the University, and of qualifications to enter some class.

To enter the Freshman Class, the student must be thoroughly drilled in the Latin declensions and conjugations, be able to translate intelligently, and parse accurately the Latin Reader and Cæsar, and have practiced in translating simple English sentences into Latin. He must be proficient in Arithmetic, Elementary Algebra to quadratic equation, English Grammar, Geography and writing from dictation. To accommodate those students who have not studied Greek the Freshman Class will begin that study.

To enter any of the higher classes he must give satisfactory evidence of having successfully completed the studies of the preceding part of the curriculum.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FRESHMAN CLASS—FIRST TERM.

Latin—Cornelius Nepos; Latin Grammar, (Allen and Greenough); Latin Exercises, (Coller and Daniel.)

Greek—Xenophon's Anabasis; First Lessons in Greek, (White); Greek Grammar, (Goodwin.)

Mathematics—Algebra, (Sanford); Geometry, (Wentworth.)

English—Practical Rhetoric; Composition and Declamation.

History—Ancient History.

Modern Language—French, (Elective.)

SECOND TERM.

Latin—Ovid ; Grammar ; Exercises ; Scanning.

Greek—Xenophon's Memorabilia ; Grammar ; Exercises.

Mathematics—Algebra, (Wentworth) ; Geometry, (Wentworth.)

English—Practical Rhetoric, (Clark) ; Composition ; Declamation.

History—Ancient History.

Modern Language—French, (Elective.)

SOPHOMORE CLASS—FIRST TERM.

Latin—Satires of Horace ; Grammar ; Exercises ; Roman Literature, Scanning.

Greek—Herodotus ; Grammar ; Exercises ; Ionic Dialect ; Mythology, (White.)

Mathematics—Solid and Spherical Geometry.

English—Lounsbury's History of the English Language ; Composition ; Declamation.

History—Mediæval and Modern.

Science—Physiology and Hygiene.

Modern Language—French, (Elective.)

SECOND TERM.

Latin—Odes of Horace ; Scanning ; Grammar ; Exercises.

Greek—Aristophanes ; Grammar ; Exercises ; Mythology.

Mathematics—Logarithms ; Plane and Spherical Trigonometry ; Surveying ; Navigation.

English—Anglo-Saxon, (Sweet's Reader) ; Historical English Grammar, (Morris) ; Composition ; Declamation.

History—Mediæval and Modern.

Science—Structural Botany.

Modern Language—German, (Elective.)

JUNIOR CLASS—FIRST TERM.

Latin—Livy ; Grammar ; Translations from English into Latin ; Roman Literature.

Greek—Plato's Gorgias ; Scanning ; Grammar ; Translations from English into Greek.

Mathematics—Conic Sections.

Science—Mechanics, (Kimball's Olmsted) ; Mineralogy.

English—Anglo-Saxon, (Sweet's Reader) ; Genung's Rhetoric ; Essays ; Declamation.

History—English and American.

Modern Language—German, (Elective.)

SECOND TERM.

Philosophy—Political Economy, (Chapin-Wayland.)

Latin—Cicero, etc., as in First Term.

Greek—Demosthenes, Euripides or Sophocles; Greek Literature.

Mathematics—Calculus, (Loomis.)

Physical Science—Hydrostatics, Sound, Light, Heat, Electricity, (Kimball's Olmsted.)

English—Genung's Rhetoric; Study of Selections from English classics; Original Speeches and Declamations.

History—English and American.

Modern Languages—German (Elective.)

SENIOR CLASS—FIRST TERM.

Philosophy—Hill's Psychology, with Lectures.

Mathematics—Astronomy, (Snell's Olmsted.)

Physical Science—Magnetism and Dynamical Electricity, (Kimball-Olmsted.)

English—Philosophy of Style, (Spencer;) Minto's Manual of English Literature, (Prose;) Studies from English Classics; Original Essays and Speeches.

History—Constitutional Government.

SECOND TERM.

Philosophy—Moral Philosophy; Logic, (Jevons.)

Physical Science—Chemistry, (Clarke;) Geology, (LeConte.)

English—Characteristics of English Poets, (Minto;) Study of Selections from English Literature; Original Speeches.

History—Laws of Nations.

III. The Scientific Course.

To meet the demand of patrons who prefer a shorter course at College this curriculum has been arranged. It bears directly upon the practical affairs of life where the pursuits chiefly require the application of the principles of mathematics or scientific research.

Students who satisfactorily complete this Course receive the Degree of Bachelor of Science.

To enter the Scientific Course the applicant should understand Geography, English Grammar, Higher Arithmetic, Elementary Algebra, Latin Reader and Cæsar, and should be fifteen years of age.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, (Plane and Spherical,) Surveying, Navigation, English, English Composition, History, Physiology, Latin, or a Modern Language.

SECOND YEAR.

Natural Philosophy, Botany, Analytical Geometry, Civil Engineering, Chemistry, Rhetoric, Logic, Constitutional Government, History, Latin, or a Modern Language.

THIRD YEAR.

Astronomy, Mineralogy, Geology, Chemistry, Mental Philosophy, Moral Philosophy, Laws of Nations, Latin or a Modern Language.

Departments of Instruction.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

To enter the Freshman Class, the applicant must have a thorough knowledge of Arithmetic, and must be proficient in Elementary Algebra. During this year the class pursues the study of Algebra, and completes some four or five books in Geometry. Considerable attention is given to original exercises, especially in Geometry. That training is given which looks not so much to the attainment of information as to the discipline of the mental faculties.

During the Sophomore year Algebra, Geometry, Conic Sections, Trigonometry, and Surveying are completed. Even more stress is laid on the solution of practical and original exercises in this year. The subjects of Land and Railway Surveying are taught practically. The student is required to make himself familiar with the instruments used, by practice in the field.

The Junior Class pursues the study of Analytic Geometry and Calculus. An abundance of practical examples will be given that the student may acquire facility in using the calculus, and that he may gain the distinctive culture that this study affords.

During the first session of the Senior year Astronomy is completed.

To enter any class higher than the Freshman, the student must exhibit a proficiency in all the studies which are in course prior to the class applied for. It would be well for those preparing for any class, by assiduous practice, to acquire skill in working out practical and original exercises.

To those wishing to apply for post-graduate degrees, the course of study will be given on application to the Professor of Mathematics.

LATIN.

The course of study in this department embraces three years. To enter the Freshman Class, the student must be well acquainted with the declensions and conjugations, and be able to translate intelligently Cæsar and Virgil. The objects aimed at are a thorough mastery of the principles of the language and the acquisition of a good vocabulary, so as to insure accuracy and facility in rendering Latin into English and English into Latin.

Throughout the course the student is persistently drilled in the grammatical principles of the language, commencing with the simpler constructions and advancing by graduated steps to the more difficult and intricate.

Written exercises are required of all classes weekly.

GREEK.

The studies of this School extend through three years and embrace the forms and structure of the language, with an introduction to the history, literature and art of the ancient Greeks. Written exercises are required of the Freshman Class twice per week and of the other classes once per week. The study of the Grammar is continued throughout the course, and students are carefully drilled in the Forms and Syntax of the language until they have thoroughly mastered them. Translations of Greek must be exact, but at the same time must be made into idiomatic English. The accent is insisted upon and teachers who are preparing students for entrance into the University are urged to train them to right accent.

ENGLISH.

The studies of this Department include all the subjects that pertain to the expression of thought in good English.

The history of the English language is studied, its origin, development, and etymology, and the history of its forms and inflections.

English literature will be studied in connection with the principles of criticism applied to some of the best productions of the best authors.

With a view to inspire and guide a taste for English literature, selections from standard English classics, (to be designated by the professor) will be carefully read and studied throughout the College course. Parallel or private reading, will be encouraged and directed.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

Natural Philosophy is studied during the two terms of the Junior year, and the first term of the Senior year.

The Junior Class during the Fall term, study the subjects of Matter, Motion, Force and Machines, as embraced in the Mechanics of Solids. In the Spring term, they go over the facts and principles of Hydrostatics, Pneumatics, Acoustics, Heat, and Statical Electricity, as set forth in their text-book. They have five recitations per week.

The Senior Class complete the course in Natural Philosophy, in their first term, with the subjects of Magnetism and Dynamical Electricity. They have four recitations per week.

Abundant problems, illustrations, and experiments serve to make clear the teachings of the text-book, and to interest the student by novel and attractive exhibitions to the eye.

CHEMISTRY.

The Senior Class begin the subject with the non-metallic elements in the month of January, and continue Inorganic Chemistry to the final examination in May. They have four recitations per week. Every effort is made to elucidate the great principles of chemical science, by informal lectures and by a variety of experiments. The members of the class assist in preparing and exhibiting experiments.

GEOLOGY.

The study of Geology is begun by the Senior Class about the first of December, and is continued to the final examination. By the liberality of friends a pretty complete collection of minerals and of rocks affords illustrations of the structure and composition of rocks, and of the character of the rocks of the several eras. The movement of life through the geological ages is also shown by many fossils, particularly from the State of Georgia. Macon is at the junction of the oldest and newest formations, and affords instructive geological sections and studies, which are visited by the class and instructor in occasional rambles.

PSYCHOLOGY AND ETHICS.

MENTAL.—The Text-book used by the student is supplemented by lectures, and he is referred to valuable and standard authors for private reading. The design is to give the student clear conceptions of the powers, functions and activities of the mind and to discover and apply the best methods for training, developing and strengthening the mental faculties. In this study of the human mind special reference will be had to fitting young men to teach, and incidentally instruction will be given in normal work.

MORAL.—In this age of materialistic tendency and successful expediency it is necessary to stand firmly by the Divine standard of right. The best citizenship depends upon a proper appreciation of personal responsibility. Usefulness and reliability in business, safety and peace in society, and high and nobler influence upon our fellowmen make it necessary that right teaching be inculcated, and right principles be accepted, and right conduct be performed. The student not only has his attention addressed to correct theories and systems of morality and his knowledge thereby increased, but an effort is made to impress upon him the importance of practically exemplifying in life the virtues which crown the man and the performing of obligations which honors his Sovereign and Lord.

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE.

In the course prescribed the aim is to acquaint the student with the leading events and ideas of the world's past. The Freshman and Sophomore years are devoted to the Ancient and Mediæval eras and in the prosecuting of these studies, while a Text-book is adhered to as a guide, the classes are required to refer to parallel readings, and topics for investigation are assigned to them. In the Junior and Senior classes their investigations and studies are devoted to the political and social organization of modern nations, the growth of the English Constitution and the beginnings of American civil government. The attention of the students is directed to the Philosophy of History, and at intervals they will be required to prepare papers showing the effects produced upon Science, Literature and Art and Government and Religion by the passing events. The students are thus compelled to reflect upon historical problems and draw their own conclusions, subject to the criticism of the class and instructor. To aid them in this work they will have access to the reference books and histories in the College and Societies' Libraries.

IV. The School of Modern Languages.

A curriculum in German and French has been arranged which covers a course of two years, and may be substituted for the Latin in the Scientific Course, and when completed the student will receive the Degree of Bachelor of Science, or it may be substituted for Greek in the Classical Course, and when completed the student will receive the Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

French—Edgren's Grammar and Exercises; Super's Reader, La Jeune Siberienne, (deMaistre;) Le Lépreux de la cité d'Aoste, (deMaistre.)
German—Joynes-Meissner's Grammar and Exercises; Joynes' Reader; Die Karavane, (Hauff;) Immensee, (Storm;) Uhland's Ballads; Das Kalte Herz, (Hauff.)

SECOND YEAR.

French—Edgren's Grammar; Exercises Brachet's Historical Grammar; Saintsbury's French Literature; Un Philosophe sous les Toits, (Souvestre;) Historiettes Modernes; La Mare au Diable, (Sand;) Tartuffe, (Molière;) Britannicus, (Racine;) L'Angleterre, (Taine.)
German—Joynes-Meissner's Grammar; Exercises; Taylor's German Literature; Wilhelm Tell, (Schiller;) Der Geisterseher, (Schiller;) Minna von Barnhelm, (Lessing;) Egmont, Hermann und Dorothea, Faust, (Goethe.)
In French, Gasc's, Spiers and Surenné's, or Smith, Hamilton and Legros' Dictionaries, is recommended; in German, Whitney's, Thieme-Preusser's, or Fluegel's (new edition.)

Two classes are organized in each language. In the first-year class the work consists of a careful study of the Grammar and the translation of simple English prose into the foreign idiom, supplemented by copious reading of easy French or German both in the class-room and privately.

In the second-year class the work is, of course, more advanced. Historical Grammar and a manual of literature are taken up and completed; the authors read are both more numerous and more difficult. Great stress is laid on the translation of English into the foreign language, and success in this is necessary for graduation.

V. Theological Department.

The Theological Department is designed to supply a want which cannot be otherwise provided for. The Seminary is not accessible to a large majority of our ministers, who may receive instruction at Mercer and be greatly benefited by it, and those who graduate here and afterward attend the Seminary, find that they have been greatly aided by the previous course in this Department.

A brief but exhaustive course in Systematic Theology is given by the Professor in lectures, to which has been added instructions in Church Polity, in Biblical Interpretation, and in the preparation and delivery of sermons. No text-book is required, but those students who are able are advised to provide the best books for reference.

An arrangement has been made by which students in the regular Academic Course may substitute Theological studies for certain branches in the literary course and still be eligible to graduation and all the honors of his class. This plan has been found to work well, and to be without detriment to that mental discipline designed to be secured by the best college curriculum.

VI. Law School.

HON. EMORY SPEER.

Judge of the United States Circuit Court for the Western Division of the Southern District of Georgia.

WALTER B. HILL, A. M., LL. B.

CLEM P. STEED.

Diploma and Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred by authority of the Act of the General Assembly. By this Act "any person having from the proper authorities of Mercer University, in this State, a Diploma of Graduation in the Law School of said University, shall be authorized to plead and practice in all the Courts of Law in this State, without further examination."

The access which the students of Mercer Law School have to the City, County, Circuit, State and United States Courts gives them great advantages, and makes them familiar with the rules of the Courts, and enables them from the beginning of their professional practice to pursue their life-work successfully and without embarrassment. During the year lectures will be delivered before the class by eminent lawyers on special topics, such as "Pleading and Evidences," "Commercial Law," "Law of Ejectment," "Corporation Law," "Equity," "Professional Ethics," etc.

VII. The Department of Practical Arts.

Arrangements have been made to give instruction in Stenography, Telegraphy, Book-keeping, Banking, etc. Young men who are determined to take only a business course, or regular students who desire to be expert also in these arts, can be accommodated. But students who take the business course may, without extra charge, also take two studies in the regular course, choosing such as will be most beneficial to them in their calling in life.

The following extract is from the minutes of the session of the Board of Trustees: "We are anxious to provide this special training in connection with the College course, believing that a broader culture than is usually given at business colleges, will add greatly to the efficiency of the business man." The opportunities and advantages offered to students in this course at Mercer are rare and must be beneficial and helpful. The constant association with teachers and young men engaged in the pursuit of classical studies, the use of the College Library, and also the Libraries of the Literary Societies, give a stimulus to mental culture and extend the intellectual horizon. The student not only becomes better equipped for the store and office, but also better fitted for society and the duties of citizenship.

In the course of study prescribed the aim is, by instruction and exemplification, to fit young men for office work in any of the business callings of life. Not only is mechanical neatness taught, but mathematical precision and legal correctness and moral rectitude are impressed upon the students as indispensable to true success in life.

Hearn Institute.

REV. J. W. SMITH, A. M. . . . PRINCIPAL.

This School, the property of the Georgia Baptist Convention and the Preparatory School of Mercer University for Northwestern Georgia, is established in the beautiful and healthful village of Cave Spring, sixteen miles from Rome, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad. Its situation among the mountains of Northwestern Georgia, at the head of the fertile and lovely Vann's Valley, its salubrious climate and excellent society, eminently fit it for a school center.

ADVANTAGES.

A Course of Instruction sufficiently extensive and carefully arranged ; firm, wholesome discipline ; thorough instruction, and cheap rates of board and tuition, are the advantages offered by this School to those who have sons to educate.

Pupils bearing a certificate of proficiency from the Principal, are admitted without examination, to whatever class in Mercer University their certificates recommend them.

A Boarding Department, presided over by the Principal, is connected with this School. The Boarding Department and school rooms are under the same roof. Hence, pupils boarding here are constantly under the supervision of the Principal, and are received and cared for as his own family.

No intoxicating liquors have ever been sold in Cave Spring, and the charter of Hearn School, together with the charter of the town, prevents its sale in the future.

A special practical Course of Study, including book-keeping, is arranged for those who do not desire graduation.

EXPENSES.

Board, including furnished room, bedding, fuel and lights, per month $10 00
Tuition, per month $2.00, $3.00 and 4 00
Pupils have their own washing done.

General Information.

ENTERING.

Young men expecting to enter College are advised to be present at least one or two days before the opening of the term for examination and for making arrangements for rooms and boarding. A few days lost at the beginning of a term work great injury to the student. Yet, students who stand a satisfactory examination may be received at any time, but there are certain advantages and honors accessible only to those who are present at the beginning of the term and remain to its close.

FEEES.

The student having registered and been examined will be required before entering his class to pay all fees assessed for his studies. In the Classical, and Scientific, and Theological Departments TUITION IS FREE, but a matriculation and contingent fee amounting to $20.00 annually is charged, payable on entering.

In the University High School tuition is $4.00 per month. For a full course in book-keeping, including the necessary books, the charge is $50.000, and the student may without further cost pursue studies in the Scientific or Classical Course.

AID TO CERTAIN CLASSES.

The Baptist Convention of the State of Georgia holds a fund for education distinct from the Endowment Fund. By this means young men of limited circumstances, who have been licensed for the Gospel Ministry, may be materially aided. Applications for the benefit of this provision should be made to Dr. S. P. Sanford, Secretary of the Executive Committee, Macon, Ga. The applicant should forward evidences, from his Pastor and church, of his character, capacity and calling. He should also state how much aid he will need, for since this fund is limited it is necessary to practice economy in its disbursement. It is intended to help them who are doing their best to help themselves. Young men who do not show decided piety, and give proof of diligence in study and attain to a fair standing in their classes will not be retained upon the charges of this fund. Apt to learn as well as "apt to teach" must be a qualification of the beneficiary.

A FUND, the bequest of Mr. James M. Gray, is held for the benefit of young men from Jones county. The following regulations have been adopted respecting applications for aid from this fund :

1. Applications for the benefits arising from the GRAY FUND must be addressed to the President or Secretary of the Faculty, substantially in this form :

I a young white man, of the age of . . . years, of the county of State of Georgia, respectfully ask to share in the provision made by the late J. M. Gray, of Jones county, Georgia, for the education of worthy indigent young men in Mercer University. I desire aid to the extent of being provided with which neither of my parents are able to pay for nor myself.

The last blank in the body of the application may be filled by inserting the words Tuition and Board, or either of these items, according to the need of the applicant.

2. All applications for the Fall Term, (October—December), must be made by September 10th, next preceding ; and for the Spring Term, (January—June), by December 10th, next preceding.

3. The applicant should be at least fourteen years of age if applying for the Freshman Class, and of proportionately advanced age if he aspires to a higher class. He must be prepared in scholarship at least for the Freshman Class, or for the first year in the Scientific Course.

4. He must present the certificate of a committee consisting of the Ordinary of the county, the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, or Judge of the County Court, and one other respectable citizen of the county, testifying that the applicant is of good moral character, and unable to pay the expenses of his education as expressed in his application.

5. The beneficiary, in every case, shall be decided by a competitive examination of all the candidates who are eligible, under the provisions of the bequest, due notice of the vacancy having been given by the Secretary of the Faculty.

6. Applicants from Jones county shall, in all cases, have precedence ; and to this end those from other counties shall be received for one year at a time, with the privilege of renewal from year to year, in case of a deficiency of applicants from Jones county.

7. The bills for Board and Tuition must be properly made out and presented to the officer appointed for that purpose.

The amount allowed each full beneficiary are as follows : Thirteen dollars per month for board ; sixty-five dollars per annum for tuition and incidental.

Beneficiaries under this fund will be expected to pay all they can towards their own expenses. The benefits of this fund are intended only for the poor and worthy, and parents of pupils who are able to pay all, or a part of their expenses, must do so. Beneficiaries of this fund must show marked diligence and make progress in their studies or they will not be retained.

HIAWASSEE High School holds a scholarship in the University, free from all charges for two years, which is awarded by the teacher in that school to the student for superior scholarship.

BOARD AND LODGING.

Students who desire to do so can lodge in the cottages erected on the University premises and board at the Students' Hall. These rooms are given to the students free of rent, but the occupant is responsible for all damage done to the room during his occupancy. Students occupying these cottages are expected to take their meals at the Boarding Department of the College.

The Prudential Committee have made arrangements by which the Boarding Department of the College will be under the management and control of Mrs. Geo. R. McCall. The patrons are to be congratulated on having an opportunity of placing their sons in a boarding house directed by a woman of such culture and powers of discipline. Board and lodging can also be had in private families near the College, at prices ranging from $12.00 to $18.00 per month.

DEGREES.

The Degree of A. B. is conferred upon students who satisfactorily complete the Classical Curriculum. The Degree of Ph. B. is conferred upon those students who complete the Classical Curriculum, substituting French and German for Greek. The Degree of B. S. is conferred upon those who, in like manner, complete the Scientific Course. The Degree of B. L. is conferred upon those who, in a satisfactory manner, complete the studies of the Law Course. The Degree of A. M. is conferred upon those College graduates who give satisfactory evidence of proficiency in a post-graduate course of one year, known as the Master's course. The Degree of Ph. D. is conferred upon College graduates who give satisfactory evidence of proficiency in a two years' course of special post-graduate studies.

Those who desire the Degree either of A. M. or Ph. D. can gain full information respecting the course by applying to the President, or the Secretary. The only honorary degrees conferred by the University are those of D. D. and LL. D.

Diploma fee is $5.00 for A. B., Ph. B. or B. S., and $10.00 for each of the other degrees.

REPORTS.

Reports in general terms of the standing of each student will be made to the parent or guardian every quarter. Reports showing the exact standing will be made at the close of each term. Parents will thus be kept acquainted with the progress of the students, and their help is solicited in securing the best results and greatest success for the student.

ABSENCES.

"A lost day" is hard to recover in any business, but in a college course it is often lost forever. And sometimes, days preceding are sadly compromised by the anticipation of the coming holiday, and then the days which follow are demoralized by the irregularities in which the student has been indulging. A continuous session, with suitable hours for rest and recreation at regular intervals, has been found to be most conducive to progress and mental discipline. The course of study is arranged so as to require faithful and earnest application on the part of the student, and if he loses time he falls behind his class, becomes heavily burdened with recitations which must be made up, and as a consequence, he loses hope, and sometimes he drifts into a fatal carelessness. In view of these facts, the management discourages the multiplication of holidays, and begs the patrons not to invite or call their sons home, or give them permission to leave college for a day, except it be really necessary. Forego the pleasure of birth-day dinners, Christmas festivals, and other social entertainments, and encourage the student to adhere to his work. Besides the mental demoralization incident to these off-days, it often happens that the exposure, travel, excitement and diet bring on physical disorders that seriously impair the health of the student. There is loss of time, loss of standing in the class, loss of enthusiasm in study, loss of money expended in travel, loss of health from exposure and indulgence, and only a passing pleasure gained. The Faculty will arrange for all the recesses and holidays that can be safely and wisely allowed.

THE COLLEGE LIBRARY.

Our Library, consisting of several thousand volumes, has for a long time been kept on the fourth floor of the main building in a room entirely too small and almost inaccessible, but now we have in the new building a room on the ground-floor admirably constructed for library purposes. The alcoves and gallery furnish shelf-room for about twenty thousand volumes. We are glad to record the fact that, during the past year, additions by gift and purchase to the amount of several hundred volumes have been made. A permanent Library Fund would be a useful memorial from any generous brother. Special donations from private libraries, or purchases made by individuals, or money with which to buy books, would be most gratefully appreciated. The value of a large and varied library to students can hardly be estimated. In the very presence of books there is an enlargement of mind. There is an educational force in the mute bound volumes which will be felt by the student. The large Library furnishes sources for information, means of investigations and incentives to research and study, which are needful in all institutions of learning. The Library will be open at such times as will best suit the convenience of the classes, and by requirement of parallel readings in their class-room studies, they will be compelled to read the standard authors in order to stand well in their classes and comprehend thoroughly their college course.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Ciceronean and Phi Delta Societies, which furnish occasions for splendid exercise in the heat of discussions and in the war of words, are in a flourishing condition. During the past year their halls have been refitted and furnished anew. The large attendance at College has enabled them to have an unusual enthusiasm in their literary contests. A generous rivalry exists which fills both with life and energy. The anniversaries and public debates excite an interest in the prosperity of the Societies which has a beneficial influence upon the members.

These Societies constitute no small part of the educational forces which are applied to the students. They supply opportunities for the exercise of self-confidence, and induce wide and earnest investigation in the topics discussed, and give the participants exercise in the arena of parliament and polemics. Each has a splendid library to which additions are being made annually.

LECTURE ASSOCIATION.

In order to enlist the interest of prominent men in the cause of education, and to give inspiration to our students as well as secure for them instruction on topics of general importance, there will be a public lecture given every fortnight in the College Chapel on some interesting theme. The addresses will be semi-scientific and historical, and though intended for instruction yet it is expected that they will furnish entertainment that is intellectual and pure. In addition to the contribution which the lecturer will make to the hour, after the lecture, the evening will be spent in social intercourse. In this way the College Society will be improved, and a most wholesome influence exerted over the students.

The social life of the students will thus be projected upon a plane that is freer from those features which are so dangerous to the character of the young man at college. These "after receptions" may be held under the auspices of the different classes, or of the Literary Societies, or of the Fraternities, each in turn.

Among the distinguished men whose services have already been engaged for one lecture or more are Hon. J. C. C. Black, of Augusta, Ga.; Dr. M. H. Lane, of Ala.; Dr. J. H. Lynn, of Philadelphia; Dr. T. P. Bell, of Virginia; Dr. J. William Jones, of Atlanta; Prof. J. T. Derry, of Macon; Dr. O. F. Flippo, of Virginia; Dr. J. B. Hawthorne, of Atlanta; Hon. Jonathan Haralson, of Alabama; Judge Emory Speer, of Georgia; Rev. R. J. Willingham, D. D., Chattanooga, Tenn.; Judge Samuel Lumpkin, LL.D., of Georgia; Rev. D. W. Gwinn, D. D. LL.D., of Virginia; Hon. W. H. J. Ham, of Georgia; Dr. C. E. W. Dobbs, Cartersville, Ga.; Hon. Thos. E. Watson of Georgia; Rev. J. E. L. Holmes, D. D., of Savannah.

RELIGIOUS ADVANTAGES.

Mercer University is founded upon a belief in the existence and authority of God, and in the divinity of Jesus Christ. In its history it has recognized His claims and accepted the Bible as His revelation to man. It holds that the education of the mind cannot with safety be separated from moral and religious instruction. While sectarianism is not imposed upon any student, his denominational preferences being conscientiously respected, yet he is made to feel that God is the Maker and Sovereign, and that the Bible is the supreme standard of right, and to conform heartily to its teachings is the duty of every man. Hence, students are required to attend public worship on the Sabbath in the Churches of their choice, also the religious services which are conducted by some member of the Faculty every morning in the Chapel. It is with pleasure that we record the fact that these services are cheerfully attended, and decently and reverently observed. A large majority of our students are orderly members of evangelical churches, and honestly endeavor to make their deportment consistent with their profession. The student of obscene and vulgar speech, or of base, irregular habits must reform, or he is left alone by other students and brought under discipline by the Faculty.

The "Young Men's Prayer Meeting," a voluntary association, conducted by one of the students is well attended, and is found to be helpful to those who are trying to lead godly lives. The "Mercer Missionary Society" is a voluntary organization composed of students, and has for its objects the dissemination of missionary information and the cultivation of the missionary spirit. This Society also appoints religious meetings to be held on Sunday afternoons in destitute portions of the city. These engagements make a good training school and many young men go forth, imbued with a desire to do good, and by this practice are qualified for efficient service in other fields.

University Funds.

$25,554.13.—Permanent Educational Fund, held in trust by the Georgia Baptist Convention, the interest on which is used in assisting worthy young men who are preparing for the ministry.

$11,000.00.—The Jane Posey Fund, the gift of the noble Christian woman whose name it bears. The interest on this sum has been a blessing to many young men, and not a few now fill high stations who owe much of their success in life to the benefits received from this fund.

$6,400.00.—The General Theological Fund.—This sum was made up by small contributions from many sources and is used for the support of the Theological Chair. The interest on this amount is supplemented annually by voluntary contributions from brethren, and thus makes the salary of that Professor.

$13,900.00.—The Central Professorship Fund, was raised by the Central Association and the interest is used in supporting the Faculty. How easily could every association in the State raise a similar fund and what untold good might be perpetually accomplished.

$19,198.00.—The Centennial Fund, was raised during the Baptist Centennial in Georgia, and represents the gifts of hundreds of brethren and sisters, who desire the prosperity of Mercer University. This fund is increased annually by the collection of subscriptions which were made during the Centennial.

$74,900.00.—The Mercer Fund, is the aggregation of many large and small gifts made by the founders of Mercer and our fathers. It has been most wonderfully preserved through the wars and financial panics, and is regularly making a contribution to the learning, manhood and civilization of the times. The interest on this fund is constantly building monuments of thought and character to the honor and memory of the generous benefactors.

$26,125.00.—The Gray Fund was a legacy left by Mr. James M. Gray to Mercer University. The disposition to be made of the interest accruing upon the fund can be seen on another page. It is proving a great blessing to the young men for whom it is intended. Truly it is a wise investment, treasure laid up in heaven, and his recompense is an eternal reward of joy and peace.

$65,000.00.—Building and Endowment Fund is now being raised in cash subscriptions and notes. More than $30,000.00 has already been secured, $25,000.00 of which has been expended in completing the new building which is now finished and furnished and occupied. According to agreement the remaining $5,000.00 goes towards the $40,000.00 which is required in order to obtain the $10,000.00 offered us by Mr. J. D. Rockefeller through the American Baptist Education Society.

We yet need $35,000.00 which must be secured in cash or notes by January 1st, 1892, in order to get the $10,000 00 from the Education Society.

These subscription notes are being taken, payable in five annual installments, bearing six per cent interest. We earnestly appeal to the Baptists of Georgia and to the friends of education and of Mercer University to come forward promptly and help us raise the stipulated amount. To fail in this effort is to lose the opportunity of half a century. This is the first offer of aid Mercer has ever had from another State and we must show ourselves worthy of it by meeting the condition promptly and cheerfully.

Statutes of Mercer University.

ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES JULY 13th, 1891.

The Faculty.

ARTICLE I.

1. All the Instructors elected by the Board of Trustees, collectively, shall be termed "The Faculty."

2. The Faculty shall consist of the President and as many Professors as may be necessary to constitute, at least, the following chairs:

- a. A Chair of Mental and Moral Science.
- b. A Chair of English Language and Literature.
- c. A Chair of Mathematics.
- d. A Chair of Physics or Natural Sciences.
- e. A Chair of Latin Language.
- f. A Chair of Greek Language.

3. There may be added, as occasion may demand and opportunity offer, additional chairs to the above as will provide for a broad and inclusive general instruction in the liberal arts and sciences. And the Board may not only add, but it may blend and arrange these chairs so as to accomplish the desired results aimed at by the Institution. And it is competent for the Board to add other and independent departments for the study of Theology, Law, Medicine or other sciences, under such regulations as may be deemed expedient.

4. The Professors occupying the chairs in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, together with the President of the University, shall constitute the Governing Body for the discipline of the University. The Professors in the Departments of Special Studies shall be relieved of the duty and responsibility of serving upon the Governing Body.

5. The titles of such persons as may occupy these chairs, and any others that may be established upon the same basis, and by virtue of which they occupy positions upon the Governing Body, together with those occupying chairs of like grade in the Departments of Special Studies, shall be Professors.

6. There may be added, as opportunity favors, such adjunct or assistant instructors as may be needed, to assist in the several branches of learning taught, and these shall be styled Assistant Professors, but they shall not be included in the Governing Body.

7. In addition, the Professors shall have the privilege of calling to their aid, intelligent young men who shall be styled Tutors, or the Trustees may select for some specific branch, not otherwise provided for, such tutors; but such selection on the part of Professors shall be subject to the ratification by the Board, and their compensation shall, in all cases, be fixed by the Board of Trustees.

8. There shall also be provided a Sub-Collegiate Department upon such terms as the Trustees may agree upon, to be in charge of an instructor to be styled Principal, but who shall not be of the Governing Body.

9. The President and Professors shall be elected to serve for three years, Assistant Professors and the Principal for two years, and Tutors for one year. But it shall be the privilege of the Board of Trustees to displace any of the Faculty for shown cause; and it shall be the privilege of any of the Faculty to resign, upon giving six month's notice to the Board, which notice may be waived by the Board at its discretion. In cases, where the election of a Professor or Assistant Professor is had at any other than an annual meeting, the term of years, as above specified, shall date from the next annual meeting.

ARTICLE II.

1. The specific duties of the President of the University shall include the careful supervision of all the interests of the Institution, to hold and preside over meetings of the Faculty for general consultation, and of the Governing Body for the exercise of discipline, having a right to vote and also to cast a deciding vote, in case of a tie, to conduct the Chapel exercises and to represent the University on all public occasions, to be the channel through which all communications and complaints from the Instructors or students to the Trustees shall pass, to confer degrees as ordered by the Board of Trustees, and the performing of all duties imposed upon him by direct action of the Board. He shall be privileged to be present at any and all lectures or recitations. He shall superintend, by such methods as may appear to him to be the most efficient, a system of reports upon the progress in scholarship, as well as upon the general deportment of the pupils, and decide upon all applications for leave of absence. Upon occasions of his absence from Macon, he shall designate a Professor as Acting President, who shall be chargeable with the responsibilities of the station.

2. The specific duties of the Instructors of the University shall be comprised in the faithful and diligent performance of their work, without engaging in any business or occupation which would interfere with the regular and punctual discharge of the same; and the strict adherence to and pursuance of the curriculum as determined by the Board of Trustees. That the Professors of each chair of the Liberal Arts and Sciences, together with the Professors of Theology and the Principal of Sub-Collegiate Department, shall report to the Board, at its Annual meeting, the condition of their respective chairs, said report to accompany the Annual Report of the President.

3. In case a Chair, for sickness or other providential cause, becomes inoperative, the classes in such department shall be taught by the other Professors—the Faculty arranging for the same. Professors in the College of Liberal Arts shall be engaged with their classes not less than three hours daily five days each week.

4. The specific duties of the Principal shall comprise the conducting of an Academy in connection with the University and the superintending thereof. He shall require the students of this department to be in attendance and remain in the rooms set apart for the Academy during five hours of each school day, which time he shall remain with them for the ordinary purposes of instruction.

5. The property of the University in buildings and accessories is equally under the care and supervision of all the Instructors, and the apparatus and appliances belonging to specific departments are specially the charge of the Instructors in those departments to which they appertain. The Faculty shall choose from among themselves a Librarian, who shall be responsible for the care of the books, superintending their circulation according to regulations prescribed by the Faculty, and enforcing proper discipline and decorum within the Library building.

6. The Governing Body, as above indicated in Article I, Section 4, of this Division, shall have control of the discipline of the University. It shall hold meetings regularly and as often as called together by the President. Before this Governing Body shall come all cases of needed discipline of sufficient importance to be reported to it. Each instructor is empowered to control the discipline of his own room during lectures or recitations, the students having a right of appeal, where injustice is imagined, to the Governing Body. For simple misdemeanors or misbehaviors the President may exercise a discretionary power in the application of simple penalties without communicating with the Governing Body, or he may refer to it such cases for its action, if he deems proper; but in the administration of these penalties he may not go beyond the imposing of reprimands, deprivation of recreation, confinement within limits or extra hours of study. The Governing Body may inflict these penalties, and in addition may suspend for a definite period or dismiss from the University; and in extreme cases may expel; and in the decision of such graver offences the President—not the acting President—shall preside. The individual Instructors, however, are to seek the peace and order of the University, at all times, and so are expected to co-operate with the President in maintaining the statutes and regulations, thus exercising a general oversight among the students, and any resisting of their authority shall be made a matter of examination by the Governing Body and deemed a grave offence.

7. In order to determine the scholar'ship and standing of the students, there shall be adopted a system of marks, to be agreed to by the Faculty, and there shall be a report of such standing made monthly to the President, who shall communicate with the parents or guardians of the pupils quarterly the standing attained by the pupils.

The Students.

ARTICLE I.

1. Candidates for admission into any of the College classes of the University shall not be less than fourteen years of age, and may be required to give evidence of fair, moral character, and shall be examined by such Instructors or Professors as may be delegated by the President, to determine their degree of advancement, and to assign to such classes as may be deemed best. They shall also subscribe to a promise upon their honor to submit to the regulations of the University and to all requirements of its constituted authorities. They shall also deposit their matriculation and incidental fees with the Treasurer, and may be required to exhibit his receipt before entering upon their classes.

2. If a student is not prepared to enter the department or class desired, he may, upon examination, be allowed to choose others, or the President may assign to him such studies as may be thought proper under the circumstances; but all students, unless specially provided for, shall have at least fifteen (15) and not more than twenty (20) recitations every week. Nor can a course once entered upon be abandoned without the advice and consent of the President.

3. The University dues and fees, as they are published in the latest catalogue must be adhered to, and no change permitted; nor may any student be permitted to receive any honors or honorable dismissal until all dues are settled.

ARTICLE II.

1. Each student must submit to the grading of the Professors and Instructors according to the system devised and which must be based upon daily recitations and periodical examinations. In addition, each student will be marked according to his conduct with such demerits as may be found necessary. When these demerits shall have amounted to as many as fifty in any one term, he shall be brought before the Governing Body for its action.

2. A student whose yearly class standing shall not commend itself to the approval of the Governing Body shall not advance with his class or graduate.

3. In addition to his usual studies as provided for in the curriculum, each student shall engage in such declamations, original compositions and orations as may be prescribed by the Faculty, and under the immediate supervision of the President and the Professor having especial charge of such literary arts; and the Faculty has the right to prescribe the order of speakers on all public occasions. In the discharge of these duties the students may be credited upon their scheme of prescribed recitations, each exercise of this character taking the place of a lecture or recitation.

4. Each student will be required to attend upon public divine services upon the Sabbath, and also to be present at the regular morning Chapel exercises of the University. In addition, a strict observance of the Sabbath is to be required of all in connection with the Institution.

ARTICLE III.

1. Each student shall be required to abstain from all evil associations, and from vicious and immoral conduct, and to deport himself on every occasion with the decorum and propriety of a gentleman.

2. No student during term time shall be permitted to carry pistols or other deadly weapons, nor to indulge in immoral or idle habits, nor to visit places of immoral exhibitions or where vicious practices are carried on, nor be a party to any publication detrimental to the University or reflecting upon any of its officers; nor deride, annoy, reproach or treat disrespectfully any fellow student or resident of the community.

3. During the hours appointed for study, students must remain in their rooms or in rooms assigned to them; and any student wilfully absenting himself from College duties for twenty-four hours, shall be at once amenable to discipline. Nor shall any student during hours prescribed by the Faculty for study, engage in any noisy or boisterous conduct, join in collections of students about the premises for conversation, or visit any other rooms for any other purpose than mutual study and improvement.

4. Any student defacing or damaging the property of the University shall be required to make restitution to its value, besides suffering other penalties as may be adjudged by the Governing Body.

5. The interpretation of offences against good order, right discipline and morals, not provided for in these regulations, belongs to the Governing Body, and it may make rules and regulations, not in conflict with the foregoing, relative to the well-being of the Institution, either as respects the behavior and deportment of the students or their studies as may be found needful; and these rules, so made, shall be in effect from their promulgation until the next ensuing meeting of the Board of Trustees, when, if they shall be ratified by the Board, they may become a part of this code.

6. These regulations apply not only to students dwelling within the University grounds, or in College commons, but also to those students of the University who may reside in the city of Macon, or who have elected to take up their temporary abode there while attending upon the exercises of the Institution.

7. The right of the Board of Trustees to alter, amend or abrogate any, or any part of these regulations is reserved to said Board.

NOTE.

In preparing this "Historical Sketch of Mercer University," the writer has not hesitated to make free use of facts, sentences and paragraphs culled from an address by Dr. S. G. Hillyer, from Campbell's "History of Georgia Baptists," from Jones' "College Education in Georgia," and from Government Reports. He is also indebted to Prof. J. E. Willet and others for valuable information. Grateful acknowledgments are hereby tendered for the generous assistance.

Historical Sketch of Mercer University.

1800-1820.—“With a few exceptions, the ministers of the Baptist denomination in Georgia were, in that early day, almost entirely without education. They were good men, and many of them were men of strong common sense. They understood the plan of salvation, and knew how to explain it, because they were able to illustrate the teachings of the Word by the light of their own deep Christian experiences. Their want of education put a limit to their usefulness. The gradual diffusion of knowledge and culture among the people was creating a demand for a better educated ministry. There were some distinguished exceptions to this prevailing ignorance in that dark period. Among them it is refreshing to mention Jesse Mercer, Adiel Sherwood, Wm. T. Brantly, H. J. Ripley, I. L. Brooks, James Shannon, H. O. Wyer, J. P. Marshall, B. M. Sanders and J. H. T. Kilpatrick. These were the men of that day who talked and thought and preached and prayed for an improvement in the mental training of our ministry. Many intelligent deacons and laymen in our churches sympathised with these great and good men in their wishes.”—Dr. S. G. HILLYER, address at Semi-Centennial of Mercer University.

1820-1830.—“Thursday, the 27th of June, 1822, arrived. It was the day appointed by the Georgia Association for the assembling of delegates, from the different Associations in the State, to form one General Association. The meeting took place at Powelton, and there was a large assemblage present. Rev. A. Sherwood preached from the text: ‘Prepare ye the way of the Lord.’—Luke, iii, 4. At the conclusion of the sermon, Jesse Mercer, President of the body, led in prayer. Rev. Wm. T. Brantly then read the Constitution, which, in Article 10, sets forth the specific objects of this body, and among them the following: (5) ‘To afford an opportunity to those who may conscientiously think it their duty to form a fund for the education of pious young men who may be called by the Spirit and their churches to the Christian ministry.’ There was at this time at Washington City an educational enterprise, the Columbian College, to which contributions were largely made by the Baptists of Georgia. The amounts donated, mainly through the advocacy of its agents, Luther Rice and Abner W. Clopton, were about $20,000.00. In 1823 William Walker, Sr., of Putnam County, endowed a scholarship in Columbian College by a gift of $2,500.00, which the Board of Trustees denominated ‘The Walker Scholarship.’ Many of the Georgia Baptists rendered very material assistance toward maintaining the existence of Columbian College. In 1827, at the session of the General Association, which met at Washington, Wilkes County, Georgia, the Executive Committee submitted the following: ‘They recommended that each member of this body, and the several ministering brethren within our bounds, be requested to use their exertions to advance this object by removing prejudices and showing the value of education to a pious ministry.' In the year 1829 the Georgia Baptist Convention met at Milledgeville, and it was announced to the body that Josiah Penfield, of Savannah, having died, had bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $2,500.00 as a fund for education, on condition that an equal sum was raised by the body for the same purpose. This was promptly done, the following named brethren subscribing the amounts as mentioned: Jesse Mercer, $250.00; Cullen Battle, $250.00; James Shannon, $100.00; Armstead Richardson, $75.00; James Davis, $50.00; H. O. Wyer, $150.00; I. L. Brooks, $100.00; B. M. Sanders, $150.00; James Boykin, $125.00; Barnabas Strickland, $30.00; William Walker, $100.00; Adiel Sherwood, $125.00; Thomas Cooper, $110.00; Wm. Flournoy, $100.00; James Armstrong, $50.00; J. H. T. Kilpatrick, $100.00; Joshua Key, $100.00; Andrew Battle, $50.00; R. C. Shorter, $50.00; Jonathan Davis, $50.00; Thomas Stocks, $50.00; Jabez P. Marshall, $100.00; Edmund Shackelford, $150.00; Robert C. Brown, $50.00; Peter Walton, $25.00; J. Whitfield, $10.00. Total, $2,500.00."—History of Georgia Baptists.

1830-1840.—In the year 1831 the Georgia Baptist Convention held its session with the Church at Buckhead, Burke County, and the following was adopted:

RESOLVED, That as soon as the funds will justify it, this Convention will establish, in some central part of the State, a Classical and Theological School, which shall unite agricultural labor with study, and be opened for those only preparing for the ministry.

The Convention met in 1832, in Powelton, and amended the above resolution by making the last clause read: "Admitting others besides students in divinity, under the direction of the Executive Committee."

At this same session it was reported that $1,500.00 additional had been subscribed, one-half of it had been paid in, and that several eligible sites had been offered on favorable terms. The Executive Committee was directed by the Convention to purchase the site seven miles north of Greensboro, offered by James Redd, and to adopt the necessary measures for putting the school in operation by the first of January, 1833. The farm consisted of 450 acres of land, and was bought for $1,450.00. Rev. B. M. Sanders was engaged as Principal, and the school was opened in January, with thirty-nine students. The school was called Mercer Institute, after Dr. Jesse Mercer, and the place was named Penfield, in memory of Deacon Josiah Penfield, of Savannah. The second year opened with eighty students. The growth of Mercer Institute was gradual until 1837, when a new departure was made, the result of which was its elevation to the character and dignity of a college. The Central Association having contributed $20,000.00 to endow what is known as the "Central Professorship of Languages and Sacred Literature," the Executive Committee took the matter in hand, changed the name to "MERCER UNIVERSITY," and in December, 1837, obtained a charter for the new University.

Section 2 of the charter provides: "That the Executive Committee of the Baptist Convention of the State of Georgia shall have power to establish and endow a collegiate institution, to be known by the name of MERCER UNIVERSITY," etc.

Section 3 provides for the election of Trustees, not less than fifteen nor more than thirty-one in number, by the Baptist Convention, etc.

Section 4 authorizes the Convention to determine the manner in which said Board of Trustees shall be perpetuated, etc.

In 1838 the charter was so amended as to "Authorize the Convention to elect the Board of Trustees once in three years, and require them to make annual reports to the Convention."

The Convention, at its session in 1839, held at Richland, Twiggs County, elected as a Board of Trustees the following: Jesse Mercer, C. D. Mallary, V. R. Thornton, Jonathan Davis, J. E. Dawson, W. D. Cowdry, J. H. T. Kilpatrick, J. H. Campbell, S. G. Hillyer, Absalom Jones, R. Q. Dickinson, Thomas Stocks, T. G. Jones, J. M. Porter, L. Greene, J. Davant, F. W. Cheney, E. H. Macon, W. Lumpkin, L. Warren, M. A. Cooper, J. B. Walker, W. H. Pope, B. M. Sanders, A. Sherwood, A. T. Holmes, James Perryman, J. S. Law, W. B. Stephens. The enrollment this year showed eighty-one in the Academic classes, seven in the Freshman and seven in the Sophomore classes, a total of ninety-five. The Board of Trustees reported "That they had under their control in subscriptions, notes running to maturity, notes on demand and cash about $100,000.00; of this amount there is about $50,000.00 on interest invested in good stock. They had also in their employ, as agents to collect funds and raise subscriptions, Brethren C. D. Mallary, Jonathan Davis, Conner, Sherwood and Posey." Subscriptions came from seventy counties, all amounting, in 1840, to $120,000.00. The first Faculty consisted of Rev. B. M. Sanders, President; Rev. A. Sherwood, Professor of Ancient Languages and Moral Philosophy; P. L. Janes, Professor of Mathematics; but upon his death, which took place before he assumed the duties of his chair, S. P. Sanford and A. W. Attaway were appointed Assistant Professors.

Thus we see that the Mercer Institute was proposed in 1831, set in operation in 1833, and existed six years, having merged into MERCER UNIVERSITY in 1839. In December, 1839, Rev. B. M. Sanders resigned.

1840-1850.—In February, 1840, the term opened with one hundred and thirty-two students in the Collegiate and Academic Departments. The Faculty consisted of Rev. Otis Smith, President and Professor of Mathematics; A. Sherwood, Sacred Literature and Moral Philosophy; R. Tolefree, Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; A. Williams, Ancient Languages; S. P. Sanford and J. W. Attaway, Assistant Professors. In 1841 the first graduating class, consisting of three, received the first diplomas of the University. The graduates were Richard M. Johnston, Author and Educator, Maryland; Benjamin F. Tharpe, Minister and Farmer, Georgia; Abner R. Wellborn, Physician, Atlanta. With these might also be mentioned P. S. Whitman, who had finished his course at Brown University and had removed to Penfield before receiving his diploma. He also received a diploma and the degree of A. B. with the class above referred to. After more than fifty years these four still live and honor the Institution by continued service in the cause of truth and education. In 1844 the Trustees suspended the Manual Labor Department, assigning as reasons "The heavy expense of maintaining it, the failure to accomplish the important and benevolent designs for which it was originally organized, and that it retarded the growth of our Institution." This action was acceded to by the Convention of 1845, which met at Forsyth.

was chosen as his successor. In 1845 the Theological Department was fully organized, embracing in its course of study Greek, Hebrew, Systematic and Pastoral Theology, Ecclesiastical History and Biblical Literature, and was extended through three years. Two Professors usually gave most of their time to instruction in this department. The second graduating class, consisting of two members, finished their classical course and received their diplomas in 1843. The third graduating class, consisting of three members, received their diplomas in 1846. Joseph E. Willet, who was a member of this class, was elected Professor in 1847, and has held his chair continuously since that date. During the remaining years of this decade the College continued to prosper, and very few changes were made in the Faculty or in the administration.

1850-1860.—It has now been twenty years since the first contribution was made of $2,500.00, by Josiah Penfield, and the organization of Mercer Institute, and twelve years since a charter was granted from the Legislature with the title of MERCER UNIVERSITY, and we find the following report made of its financial condition:

University Fund	$90,728.00
Central Professorship Fund	19,950.00
Mercer Theological Fund	23,292.00
Beneficiary Fund	29,387.00
Total	$163,357.00

A considerable amount of these funds was in the form of original subscriptions yet unpaid, and some that had been collected was loaned to individuals on what was regarded as good security. During these years there had been erected on the campus a spacious chapel, a residence, occupied by the President; a College building, containing recitation rooms and rooms for the Library and Philosophical Apparatus; a large edifice for the accommodation of students; two halls for the Literary Societies, and a Chemical Laboratory.

There were in attendance: Students in the Senior Class, ten; in Junior, fifteen; Sophomore, fourteen, and in the Freshman twenty-six, making a total in the College classes of sixty-five. The patronage continued to increase, with slight variations, when, in 1860, it reached an enrollment of one hundred and forty students in the four College classes.

In 1854 Rev. J. L. Dagg, D. D., resigned the Presidency, and Rev. N. M. Crawford, D. D., was elected to fill the vacancy. Dr. Dagg remained a few years as Professor in the Theological Department. At the end of two years Dr. Crawford resigned, and for two years the University had no President, Prof. S. P. Sanford acting as Chairman of the Faculty. At the expiration of this time Dr. Crawford was re-elected President. During this decade Dr. H. H. Tucker, Dr. William Williams, Dr. P. H. Mell and Prof. Uriah W. Wise were incumbents of the several Professorships. In 1859 Dr. W. Williams was elected Professor in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and Dr. S. G. Hillyer was his successor in MERCER UNIVERSITY. It was deemed advisable to concentrate the contributions and patronage of Southern Baptists upon the Seminary, and in consequence of which the interest in the Theological Department at Mercer declined. In 1855 Dr. Mell, who had been at MERCER since 1841, resigned his chair, and he was elected Professor of Ancient Languages in the State University, at Athens.

1860-1870.—MERCER UNIVERSITY continued to advance in prosperity until the commencement of the war. The Senior Class of 1861, which consisted of thirty-one members, was the largest graduated from this Institution. During the continuance of the war a mere skeleton of a College organization was preserved, and with the close of the war came temporary confusion and demoralization. The Trustees succeeded in holding a meeting in December, 1865, and began the rehabilitation of the University and the re-organization of the Faculty, with Dr. H. H. Tucker as President. The question of the removal of the College from Penfield began to be discussed at the Associations and in the State Convention.

BUILDING ERECTED IN 1872.

1870-1880.—The question of removal was still being agitated, and it was brought before the Convention, which assembled in Newnan in April, 1870. By a vote of 71 to 16 it was resolved to move the University from Penfield. At a conference held soon thereafter by the Trustees and a committee from the Convention, Macon was adopted as the location of the College. The City of Macon gave the University $125,000.00 in bonds and several acres of land on Tattnall Square. The Trustees proceeded to have the charter amended by the Legislature and commenced the erection of a large and handsome four-story building, and the College was formally opened in Macon in 1871. The Faculty at that time consisted of Dr. H. H. Tucker, President, and Dr. J. J. Brantly, S. P. Sanford, J. E. Willet and W. G. Woodfin. In 1872 Rev. E. A. Steed was elected Professor of Latin. In 1872 Dr. H. H. Tucker resigned and Dr. A. J. Battle was elected President. The enrollment of students for this year shows: Seniors, 12; Juniors, 22; Sophomores, 29; Freshmen, 18; total, 81. During this decade a vigorous effort was made to add to the endowment, and Dr. R. W. Fuller and Dr. H. C. Hornady, with great zeal and ability, pressed the matter upon the attention of the public. Considerable sums were obtained in subscriptions, but owing to the unsettled condition of the finances of the country, but little was added to the permanent funds of the University, which had been seriously impaired by the fortunes of the war. But for the good judgment of the faithful Treasurer, T. J. Burney, Esq., and a kind Providence, the entire endowment might have been lost in the sudden destructive upheavals during the war and the fearful inflations and panics that prevailed immediately after its close. The original endowment, amid all the changes, was almost wholly preserved, though it required several years for it to become productive again. This much ought to be said concerning the management of MERCER'S finances during all the years of its existence, from 1830 to the present time. The Trustees and Treasurers have watched the invested funds with jealous care, used the utmost caution in making investments, and have succeeded, as perhaps no other institution in the land, in preserving the fund intact and in keeping it in productive investments.

In 1872 Rev. E. A. Steed, A. M., was elected Professor of the Latin Language, and in 1873 the Law Department was inaugurated, with a Faculty consisting of Hon. C. B. Cole, Hon. Clifford Anderson and Walter B. Hill, A. M., B. L. In 1875 James Gray, Esq., a citizen of Jones County, Georgia, made a bequest to MERCER UNIVERSITY of more than $25,000.00, the interest on which should be used for the collegiate education of poor but worthy young men of Jones County. But it was provided in the bequest that if enough should not apply from that county to consume the interest, then students might be selected from other parts of the State.

1880-1890.—During this decade there were several changes made in the Faculty. Professor Steed died in 1886, and the same year Professor Woodfin resigned, and the chairs of Greek and Latin were consolidated, and Prof. Wm. G. Manly was elected to fill the vacancy. In 1888 the health of Prof. S. P. Sanford became impaired, and R. L. Ryals, A. B., was elected Assistant Professor in Mathematics. In 1889 Dr. A. J. Battle, who had been President for seventeen years, resigned, and Rev. G. A. Nunnally, D. D., was elected as his successor. At the same time Professor Manly also resigned, and W. L. Duggan, A. B., A. M., was elected to fill the vacancy. The attendance this year was as follows: Seniors, 12; Juniors, 18; Sophomores, 26; Freshmen, 35; total in the College classes, 91. In 1883 and 1884 another effort was made to increase the endowment, which resulted in the addition of several thousand dollars to the permanent fund.

1890-1892.—In 1890 the chair of Ancient Languages was divided, and Rev. T. W. O'Kelley, A. B., was elected to take charge of the Department of Latin. In 1891 Prof. S. P. Sanford, becoming more frail in health, resigned the chair of Mathematics, having been in the Faculty for fifty years, and Prof. R. L. Ryals, A. M., was elected to fill the vacancy. In 1890 Prof.

E. H. George, A. M., was elected to the chair of Modern Languages, and Dr. K. P. Moore, Lecturer on Physiology and Hygiene. In 1891 the health of Professor Duggan became impaired, and C. W. Steed, A. B., was requested to fill his place until the Trustees should meet to make permanent arrangements. In the same year another building was erected, comprising a library, a chapel capable of seating 800 or 1,000 persons, six recitation rooms and a study attached to each for the use of the Professors. The cost of the building was $26,000.00. Immediately after the erection of this building, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, of New York, proposed to donate $10,000.00 to MERCER UNIVERSITY, provided the Baptists in Georgia would raise $40,000.00, thus adding $50,000.00 to the permanent endowment. This amount has been raised in cash and subscriptions, bearing 6 per cent. interest. Including the above, the University funds are as follows:

University Funds.

$25,554.13.—PERMANENT EDUCATIONAL FUND, held in trust by the Georgia Baptist Convention, the interest on which is used in assisting worthy young men who are preparing for the ministry.

$11,000.00.—THE JANE POSEY FUND, the gift of the noble Christian woman whose name it bears. The interest on this sum has been a blessing to many young men, and not a few now fill high stations who owe much of their success in life to the benefits received from this fund.

$6,400.00.—THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL FUND.—This sum was made up by small contributions from many sources, and is used for the support of the Theological Chair. The interest on this amount is supplemented annually by voluntary contributions from brethren, and thus makes the salary of that Professor.

$13,900.00.—THE CENTRAL PROFESSORSHIP FUND, was raised by the Central Association, and the interest is used in supporting the Faculty. How easily could every Association in the State raise a similar fund, and what untold good might be perpetually accomplished!

$19,198.00.—THE CENTENNIAL FUND, was raised during the Baptist Centennial in Georgia, and represents the gifts of hundreds of brethren and sisters who desire the prosperity of MERCER UNIVERSITY. This fund is increased annually by the collection of subscriptions which were made during the Centennial.

$74,900.00.—THE MERCER FUND, is the aggregation of many large and small gifts made by the founders of MERCER and our fathers. It has been most wonderfully preserved through the wars and financial panics, and is regularly making a contribution to the learning, manhood and civilization of the times. The interest on this fund is constantly building monuments of thought and character to the honor and memory of the generous benefactors.

$26,125.00.—THE GRAY FUND, was a legacy left by Mr. James M. Gray to MERCER UNIVERSITY. The disposition to be made of the interest accruing upon the fund can be seen on another page. It is proving a great blessing to the young men for whom it is intended. Truly, it is a wise investment—treasure laid up in heaven—and his recompense is an eternal reward of joy and peace.

$50,000.00.—THE ROCKEFELLER-GEORGIA FUND, which has been raised in cash and interest-bearing subscriptions during the last year. The interest on this fund will be used in paying the salaries of new Professors, who will be added to the Faculty at an early day.

Announcements.

PROFESSOR W. L. DUGGAN, who filled the Chair of Greek so successfully and satisfactorily for two years, was taken ill in November, 1891, and, temporary rest failing to restore his health, resigned at the close of the session. Professor T. W. O'Kelley assumed the duties of the Chair of Latin two years ago quite unwillingly, feeling that he should give himself wholly to the Ministry; but, with eminent satisfaction to his patrons, he discharged the responsibilities of his office. Still impressed with the conviction that he should enter the pastorate, he resigned also. Professor E. H. George, who has for several years managed the University High School very prosperously, and taught the Modern Languages in the College classes with great success, resigned to accept a position in another institution.

These vacancies have been filled by men of admitted scholarship and marked ability. Mr. W. H. Sturman, of the late graduating class, was chosen to succeed Professor George in the University High School. Mr. Sturman, during his entire College Course, has given evidence of many traits of character and gifts which warrant the expectation of a most successful management of the Department which has been committed to his care.

Professor E. S. Tichenor, A. M., has been elected to the Chair of Latin. He is a graduate of Georgetown College, Kentucky; has had the advantage of a Post Graduate Course, and has been engaged for several years in the Chair of Latin in other Colleges, and comes to MERCER with credentials and commendations from scholars and educators which assure us that the duties of the chair will be discharged successfully and profitably.

Professor J. S. Murray, A. M., has been called to the Chair of Greek. He graduated with the Degree of A. M. from Furman University; was a student for one year of Classical Philology at the Johns Hopkins University; continued his studies in Germany, one year each at Goettingen and Leipsic, and four years at Berlin, whence he was called to a chair in the Department of Classical Philology in the University of South Carolina; and now, after three years of eminently satisfactory service in that Professorship, he takes the Chair of Greek in MERCER UNIVERSITY.

In addition to these changes in the Faculty, it will also be noticed, by reference to the Curriculum, that the Course of Study has been greatly advanced. The preparation required for admission has been made much higher, and the attainment demanded for graduation has been considerably extended.

ORGANIZATION.

The University embraces at present the following Departments :

- I. THE PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.
 - II. THE CLASSICAL COURSE.
 - III. THE SCIENTIFIC COURSE.
 - IV. THE SCHOOL OF MODERN LANGUAGES.
 - V. THE DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY.
 - VI. THE LAW SCHOOL.

I. PREPARATORY SCHOOL.

The Curriculum of this School embraces a Course of three years, and is designed to prepare young men for admission into the College classes. The students are under the same regulations and enjoy the same advantages as in the University. The methods of instruction and the Courses of Study conform and lead directly to the College Curriculum, thus making the School a natural and easy door to the University. Students bearing certificates of proficiency from this School are received into the College classes without further examination, and the student who reaches the maximum in scholarship is entitled to certain privileges in the College.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Third Class.—Arithmetic ; Geography ; English Grammar (primer) ; United States History ; Reading ; Writing ; Spelling ; Composition ; Elocution.

Second Class.—Arithmetic (Sanford's Higher) ; English Grammar (Whitney) ; United States History (Derry) ; Geography (Maury's) ; Easy Latin Lessons (Lindsay and Rollins) ; Gradatim ; Reading ; Writing ; Spelling ; Composition ; Elocution.

First Class.—Algebra (Sanford) ; Arithmetic, completed ; English Lessons (Lockwood) ; History of Rome (Creighton) ; History of England (Anderson) ; Latin Grammar (Allen) ; Latin Exercises Book (Allen) ; Eutopius ; Virgil ; Cæsar ; White's Elementary Greek Lessons ; Anabasis ; Spelling ; Composition ; Elocution.

II. THE CLASSICAL COURSE.

This Course is a carefully arranged Curriculum, and affords a thorough intellectual equipment and discipline, and gives an adequate preparation for the practical affairs of life. The student completing this Course will have a broad and deep foundation upon which to build to excellence in any profession or calling in life. Premature specialization is a mistake, and young men are urged to take the regular Classical Course, and, having finished it, then choose some specialty upon which to employ the powers of a well trained mind.

Students who satisfactorily complete the Classical Course receive the Decree of Bachelor of Arts.

Admission.—In order to matriculate, the applicant must be at least fourteen years of age; must give evidence of good moral character; of a disposition to submit to the obligations and discipline of the University, and of qualifications to enter some class.

To enter the Freshman Class the student must be thoroughly drilled in the Latin declensions and conjugations; be able to translate intelligently, and parse accurately the Latin Reader, Cæsar and Virgil, and have practiced in translating simple English sentences into Latin. He must be proficient in Arithmetic, Elementary Algebra to Quadratic Equations, English Grammar, Geography, and writing from dictation.

To enter any of the higher classes he must give satisfactory evidence of having successfully completed the studies of the preceding part of the Curriculum.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

Latin—Cornelius Nepos; Latin Grammar (Allen and Greenough); Latin Exercises (Coller and Daniel).

III. THE SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

To meet the demand of patrons who prefer a shorter Course at College this Curriculum has been arranged. It bears directly upon the practical affairs of life where the pursuits chiefly require the application of the principles of Mathematics or Scientific research.

Students who satisfactorily complete this Course receive the Degree of Bachelor of Science.

To enter the Scientific Course the applicant should understand Geography, English Grammar, Higher Arithmetic, Elementary Algebra, Latin Reader and Cæsar, and should be fifteen years of age.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry (Plane and Spherical), Surveying, Navigation, English, English Composition, History, Physiology, Latin, or a Modern Language.

SECOND YEAR.

Natural Philosophy, Botany, Analytical Geometry, Civil Engineering, Chemistry, Rhetoric, Logic, Constitutional Government, History, Latin, or a Modern Language.

THIRD YEAR.

Astronomy, Mineralogy, Geology, Chemistry, Mental Philosophy, Moral Philosophy, Laws of Nations, Latin, or a Modern Language.

Departments of Instruction.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

To enter the Freshman Class the applicant must have a thorough knowledge of Arithmetic, and must be proficient in Elementary Algebra. During this year the class pursues the study of Algebra, and completes some four or five books in Geometry. Considerable attention is given to original exercises, especially in Geometry. That training is given which looks not so much to the attainment of information as to the discipline of the mental faculties.

During the Sophomore year, Geometry, Conic Sections, Trigonometry and Surveying are completed. Even more stress is laid on the solution of practical and original exercises in this year. The subjects of Land and Railway Surveying are taught practically. The student is required to make himself familiar with the instruments used by practice in the field.

The Junior Class pursues the study of Analytic Geometry and Calculus. An abundance of practical examples will be given, that the student may acquire facility in using the calculus, and that he may gain the distinctive culture that this study affords.

During the first session of the Senior year, Astronomy is completed.

To enter any class higher than the Freshman, the student must exhibit a proficiency in all the studies which are in course prior to the class applied for. It would be well for those preparing for any class, by assiduous practice, to acquire skill in working out practical and original exercises.

To those wishing to apply for Post Graduate Degrees, the Course of Study will be given on application to the Professor of Mathematics.

LATIN.

The Course of Study in this Department embraces four years. To enter the Freshman Class the student must be well acquainted with the declensions and conjugations, and be able to translate intelligently Cæsar and Virgil. The objects aimed at are a thorough mastery of the principles of the language and the acquisition of a good vocabulary, so as to insure accuracy and facility in rendering Latin into English, and English into Latin.

Throughout the Course the student is persistently drilled in the grammatical principles of the language, commencing with the simpler constructions and advancing by graduated steps to the more difficult and intricate.

Written exercises are required of all classes weekly.

GREEK.

The studies of this School extend through four years and embrace the forms and structure of the language, with an introduction to the history, literature and art of the ancient Greeks. Written exercises are required of the Freshman Class twice per week, and of the other classes once per week. The study of the Grammar is continued throughout the Course, and students are carefully drilled in the Forms and Syntax of the language until they have thoroughly mastered them. Translations of Greek must be exact, but at the same time must be made into idiomatic English. The accent is insisted upon, and teachers who are preparing students for entrance into the University are urged to train them to right accent.

ENGLISH.

The studies of this Department include all the subjects that pertain to the expression of thought in good English.

The history of the English language is studied—its origin, development, and etymology, and the history of its forms and inflections.

English literature will be studied in connection with the principles of criticism applied to some of the best productions of the best authors.

With a view to inspire and guide a taste for English literature, selections from standard English classics (to be designated by the Professor) will be carefully read and studied throughout the College Course. Parallel or private reading will be encouraged and directed.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

Natural Philosophy is studied during the two terms of the Junior year, and the first term of the Senior year.

The Junior Class, during the Fall Term, study the subjects of Matter, Motion, Force and Machines, as embraced in the Mechanics of Solids. In the Spring Term they go over the facts and principles of Hydrostatics, Pneumatics, Acoustics, Heat and Statical Electricity, as set forth in their Text-book. They have five recitations per week.

The Senior Class complete the Course in Natural Philosophy in their first term, with the subjects of Magnetism and Dynamical Electricity. They have four recitations per week.

Abundant problems, illustrations and experiments serve to make clear the teachings of the Text-book, and to interest the student by novel and attractive exhibitions to the eye.

CHEMISTRY.

The Senior Class begins the subject with the non-metallic elements in the month of January, and continue Inorganic Chemistry to the final examination in May. They have four recitations per week. Every effort is made to elucidate the great principles of Chemical Science, by informal lectures and by a variety of experiments. The members of the class assist in preparing and exhibiting experiments.

GEOLOGY.

The study of Geology is begun by the Senior Class about the first of December, and is continued to the final examination. By the liberality of friends, a pretty complete collection of minerals and of rocks affords illustrations of the structure and composition of rocks, and of the character of the rocks of the several eras. The movement of life through the geological ages is also shown by many fossils, particularly from the State of Georgia. Macon is at the junction of the oldest and newest formations, and affords instructive geological sections and studies, which are visited by the class and instructor in occasional rambles.

PSYCHOLOGY AND ETHICS.

MENTAL.—The Text-book used by the student is supplemented by lectures, and he is referred to valuable and standard authors for private reading. The design is to give the student clear conceptions of the powers, functions and activities of the mind, and to discover and apply the best methods for training, developing and strengthening the mental faculties. In this study of the human mind, special reference will be had to fitting young men to teach; and, incidentally, instruction will be given in Normal work.

MORAL.—In this age of materialistic tendency and successful expediency, it is necessary to stand firmly by the Divine standard of right. The best citizenship depends upon a proper appreciation of personal responsibility. Usefulness and reliability in business, safety and peace in society, and high and nobler influence upon our fellowmen, make it necessary that right teaching be inculcated, and right principles be accepted, and right conduct be performed. The student not only has his attention addressed to correct theories and systems of morality, and his knowledge thereby increased, but an effort is made to impress upon him the importance of practically exemplifying in life the virtues which crown the man, and the performing of obligations which honors his Sovereign and Lord.

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE.

In the Course prescribed the aim is to acquaint the student with the leading events and ideas of the world's past. The Freshman and Sophomore years are devoted to the Ancient and Mediæval eras, and in the prosecution of these studies, while a Text-book is adhered to as a guide, the classes are required to refer to parallel readings, and topics for investigation are assigned to them. In the Junior and Senior classes their investigations and studies are devoted to the political and social organization of modern nations, the growth of the English Constitution, and the beginnings of American civil government. The attention of the students is directed to the Philosophy of History, and at intervals they will be required to prepare papers showing the effects produced upon Science, Literature and Art, and Government and Religion by the passing events. The students are thus compelled to reflect upon historical problems and draw their own conclusions, subject to the criticism of the class and instructor. To aid them in this work they will have access to the reference books and histories in the College and Societies' Libraries.

IV. THE SCHOOL OF MODERN LANGUAGES.

A Curriculum in German and French has been arranged which covers a Course of two years, and may be substituted for the Latin in the Scientific Course, and when completed the student will receive the Degree of Bachelor of Science, or it may be substituted for Greek in the Classical Course, and when completed the student will receive the Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

French—Edgren's Grammar and Exercises; Super's Reader; LaJeune Siberienne (deMaistre); Lépreux de la cité d'Aoste (deMaistre).

German—Joynes'-Meissner's Grammar and Exercises; Joynes' Reader; Die Karavane (Hauff); Immensee (Storm); Uhland's Ballads; Das Kalte Herz (Hauff).

SECOND YEAR.

French—Edgren's Grammar; Exercises, Brachet's Historical Grammar; Saintsbury's French Literature; Un Philosophe sous les Toits (Souvestre); Historiettes Modernes; La Mare au Diable (Sand); Tartuffe (Molière); Britannicus (Racine); L'Angleterre (Taine).

German—Joynes'-Meissner's Grammar; Exercises; Taylor's German Literature; Wilhelm Tell (Schiller); Der Geisterseher (Schiller); Minna von Barnhelm (Lessing); Egmont, Hermann und Dorothea, Faust (Goethe).

In French, Gasc's, Spiers and Surenné's, or Smith, Hamilton and Legros' Dictionaries are recommended; in German, Whitney's, Thieme-Preusser's, or Fluegel's (new edition).

Two classes are organized in each language. In the first-year class the work consists of a careful study of the Grammar and the translation of simple English prose into the foreign idiom, supplemented by copious reading of easy French or German, both in the class-room and privately.

In the second-year class the work is, of course, more advanced. Historical Grammar and a manual of literature are taken up and completed; the authors read are both more numerous and more difficult. Great stress is laid on the translation of English into the foreign language, and success in this is necessary for graduation.

V. THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Theological Department is designed to supply a want which cannot be otherwise provided for. The Seminary is not accessible to a large majority of our Ministers, who may receive instruction at MERCER and be greatly benefited by it, and those who graduate here, and afterward attend the Seminary, find that they have been greatly aided by the previous Course in this Department.

A brief but exhaustive Course in Systematic Theology is given by the Professor in lectures, to which has been added instructions in Church Polity, in Biblical Interpretation, and in the preparation and delivery of sermons. No Text-book is required, but those students who are able are advised to provide the best books for reference.

An arrangement has been made by which students in the regular Academic Course may substitute Theological studies for certain branches in the Literary Course and still be eligible to graduation and all the honors of his class. This plan has been found to work well, and to be without detriment to that mental discipline designed to be secured by the best College Curriculum.

Mercer University Law School.

FACULTY.

HON. EMORY SPEER Judge of U. S. Court at Macon.

HON. W. B. HILL, A. M. Member of the Macon Bar.

CLEM P. STEED, A. M. Member of the Macon Bar.

FALL AND SPRING TERM.

This School will be opened on October 1, 1892. The Fall Term will end December 23, and the Spring Term begin on January 1, 1893, and continue to the regular College Commencement, the first Wednesday in June, 1893.

TUITION.

The Tuition for both Terms is $60.00, payable $25.00 at the entrance, and $35.00 at the beginning of the Spring Term.

BOARD.

Board can be obtained in the City at $15.00 to $18.00, and at less rates at the College Cottages.

RECITATIONS.

The Recitations will be arranged so that students in the other Departments may also take the Law Course. It is thought that diligent students of a fair ability, especially members of the Senior Class, and students taking Special Courses, can, without overtaxing themselves, graduate in Law at the same time that they do in the other College Courses.

In addition to the regular recitations, lectures on different topics of the Law will be delivered at intervals by leading jurists. Students will be permitted to argue and conduct cases in moot courts, during the Spring Term, so as to give them some training in the practice of Law and prepare them in some measure for immediately entering upon their calling.

ADVANTAGES.

Graduates of this School are admitted to practice in all the State Courts without further examination.

It is well known that no point offers finer opportunities for a Law student than Macon. There are a number of courts here in almost continual session, presided over by able judges, and before which some of the most accomplished lawyers in the State regularly practice, and where observers are always free to come. There are also a number of fine Law libraries in the city to which students may have access.

This School is intended to meet the wants of students who are anxious to take up the practice of Law as their life-work, and who have neither the time nor the money to expend at Schools requiring Courses of two or three years at a cost of several hundred dollars.

Students who are in earnest can get at this School a sufficient knowledge of the leading principles of Law to prepare them to cope with ordinary questions, and to continue their studies intelligently during those leisure hours which young lawyers are supposed to have.

It would be well for those who intend entering the School this fall to obtain a copy of Blackstone's Commentaries and read it carefully during the Summer months.

Address all communications to C. P. Steed, Secretary Law Faculty, Macon, Ga.

Hearn Institute.

REV. J. W. SMITH, A. M. PRINCIPAL.

This School, the property of the Georgia Baptist Convention, and the Preparatory School of MERCER UNIVERSITY for Northwestern Georgia, is established in the beautiful and healthful village of Cave Spring, sixteen miles from Rome, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad. Its situation, among the mountains of Northwestern Georgia, at the head of the fertile and lovely Vann's Valley, its salubrious climate and excellent society, eminently fit it for a School center.

ADVANTAGES.

A Course of Instruction sufficiently extensive and carefully arranged ; firm, wholesome discipline ; thorough instruction, and cheap rates of Board and Tuition, are the advantages offered by this School to those who have sons to educate.

Pupils bearing a certificate of proficiency from the Principal are admitted, without examination, to whatever class in MERCER UNIVERSITY their certificates recommend them.

A Boarding Department, presided over by the Principal, is connected with this School. The Boarding Department and school rooms are under the same roof. Hence, pupils boarding here are constantly under the supervision of the Principal, and are received and cared for as his own family.

No intoxicating liquors have ever been sold in Cave Spring, and the charter of Hearn School, together with the charter of the town, prevents its sale in the future.

A special practical Course of Study, including Book-keeping, is arranged for those who do not desire graduation.

EXPENSES.

Board, including furnished room, bedding, fuel and lights, per month . $10.00
Tuition, per month $2.00, $3.00 and $4.00
Pupils have their own washing done.

General Information.

ENTERING.

Young men expecting to enter College are advised to be present at least one or two days before the opening of the term, for examination and for making arrangements for rooms and boarding. A few days lost at the beginning of a term works great injury to the student. Yet, students who stand a satisfactory examination may be received at any time, but there are certain advantages and honors accessible only to those who are present at the beginning of the term and remain to its close.

FEES.

The student having registered and been examined will be required, before entering his class, to pay all fees assessed for his studies. In the Classical, Scientific, and Theological Departments, TUITION IS FREE; but a Matriculation and Contingent fee, amounting to $20.00 annually, is charged, payable on entering.

In the University High School, Tuition is $4.00 per month.

AID TO CERTAIN CLASSES.

The Baptist Convention of the State of Georgia holds a fund for education distinct from the Endowment Fund. By this means young men of limited circumstances, who have been licensed for the Gospel Ministry, may be materially aided. Applications for the benefit of this provision should be made to E. D. Huguenin, Secretary of the Executive Committee, Macon, Ga. The applicant should forward evidences, from his Pastor and Church, of his character, capacity and calling. He should also state how much aid he will need, for, since this fund is limited, it is necessary to practice economy in its disbursement. It is intended to help them who are doing their best to help themselves. Young men who do not show decided piety, and give proof of diligence in study and attain to a fair standing in their classes, will not be retained upon the charges of this fund. Apt to learn, as well as "apt to teach," must be a qualification of the beneficiary.

A fund, the bequest of Mr. James M. Gray, is held for the benefit of young men from Jones County. The following regulations have been adopted respecting applications for aid from this fund :

1. Applications for the benefits arising from the GRAY FUND must be addressed to the President or Secretary of the Faculty, substantially in this form :

I, . . . , a young white man, of the age of . . . years, of the County of . . . , State of Georgia, respectfully ask to share in the provision made by the late J. M. Gray, of Jones County, Georgia, for the education of worthy indigent young men in MERCER UNIVERSITY. I desire aid to the extent of being provided with . . . , which neither of my parents are able to pay for, nor myself.

[The last blank in the body of the application may be filled by inserting the words Tuition and Board, or either of these items, according to the need of the applicant.]

2. All applications for the Fall Term (October–December) must be made by September 10th, next preceding; and for the Spring Term (January–June) by December 10th, next preceding.

3. The applicant should be at least fourteen years of age if applying for the Freshman Class, and of proportionately advanced age if he aspires to a higher class. He must be prepared in scholarship at least for the Freshman Class, or for the first year in the Scientific Course.

4. He must present the certificate of a committee consisting of the Ordinary of the County, the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, or Judge of the County Court, and one other respectable citizen of the County, testifying that the applicant is of good moral character, and unable to pay the expenses of his education, as expressed in his application.

5. The beneficiary, in every case, shall be decided by a competitive examination of all the candidates who are eligible under the provisions of the bequest, due notice of the vacancy having been given by the Secretary of the Faculty.

6. Applicants from Jones County shall, in all cases, have precedence; and to this end those from other counties shall be received for one year at a time, with the privilege of renewal from year to year, in case of a deficiency of applicants from Jones County.

7. The bills for Board and Tuition must be properly made out and presented to the officer appointed for that purpose.

The amounts allowed each full beneficiary are as follows: Thirteen dollars per month for Board; sixty-five dollars per annum for Tuition and incidental.

Beneficiaries under this fund will be expected to pay all they can towards their own expenses. The benefits of this fund are intended only for the poor and worthy, and parents of pupils who are able to pay all, or a part of their expenses, must do so. Beneficiaries of this fund must show marked diligence, and make progress in their studies, or they will not be retained.

Hiawassee High School holds a Scholarship in the University, free from all charges for two years, which is awarded by the teacher in that School to the student for superior scholarship.

BOARD AND LODGING.

Students who desire to do so can lodge in the cottages erected on the University premises, and board at the Students' Hall. These rooms are given to the students free of rent, but the occupant is responsible for all damage done to the room during his occupancy. Students occupying these cottages are expected to take their meals at the Boarding Department of the College.

The Prudential Committee have made arrangements by which the Boarding Department of the College will be under the management and control of Mrs. McAndrews. The patrons are to be congratulated on having an opportunity of placing their sons in a boarding-house directed by a woman of such culture and powers of discipline. Board and lodging can also be had in private families, near the College, at prices ranging from $12.00 to $18.00 per month.

DEGREES.

The Degree of A. B. is conferred upon students who satisfactorily complete the Classical Curriculum. The Degree of Ph. B. is conferred upon those students who complete the Classical Curriculum, substituting French and German for Greek. The Degree of B. S. is conferred upon those who, in like manner, complete the Scientific Course. The Degree of B. L. is conferred upon those who, in a satisfactory manner, complete the Studies of the Law Course. The Degree of A. M. is conferred upon those College graduates who give satisfactory evidence of proficiency in a Post Graduate Course of one year, known as the Master's Course.

Those who desire the Degree of A. M. can gain full information respecting the Course by applying to the President or the Secretary. The only Honorary Degrees conferred by the University are those of D. D. and LL. D.

Diploma Fee is $5.00 for A. B., Ph. B. or B. S., and $10.00 for each of the other Degrees.

REPORTS.

Reports in general terms of the standing of each student will be made to the parent or guardian every quarter. Reports showing the exact standing, will be made at the close of each term. Parents will thus be kept acquainted with the progress of the students, and their help is solicited in securing the best results and greatest success for the student.

ABSENCES.

"A lost day" is hard to recover in any business, but in a College Course it is often lost forever. And sometimes, days preceding are sadly compromised by the anticipation of the coming holiday, and then the days which follow are demoralized by the irregularities in which the student has been indulging. A continuous session, with suitable hours for rest and recreation at regular intervals, has been found to be most conducive to progress and mental discipline. The Course of Study is arranged so as to require faithful and earnest application on the part of the student, and if he loses time he falls behind his class, becomes heavily burdened with recitations which must be made up, and as a consequence he loses hope, and sometimes he drifts into a fatal carelessness. In view of these facts, the management discourages the multiplication of holidays, and begs the patrons not to invite or call their sons home, or give them permission to leave College for a day, except it be really necessary. Forego the pleasure of birthday dinners, Christmas festivals, and other social entertainments, and encourage the student to adhere to his work. Besides the mental demoralization incident to these off-days, it often happens that the exposure, travel, excitement and diet bring on physical disorders that seriously impair the health of the student. There is loss of time, loss of standing in the class, loss of enthusiasm in study, loss of money expended in travel, loss of health from exposure and indulgence, and only a passing pleasure gained. The Faculty will arrange for all the recesses and holidays that can be safely and wisely allowed.

THE COLLEGE LIBRARY.

Our Library, consisting of several thousand volumes, has for a long time been kept on the fourth floor of the main building, in a room entirely too small and almost inaccessible, but now we have in the new building a room on the ground floor admirably constructed for Library purposes. The alcoves and gallery furnish shelf-room for about twenty thousand volumes. We are glad to record the fact that, during the past year, additions by gift and purchase to the amount of several hundred volumes have been made. A permanent Library Fund would be a useful memorial from any generous Brother. Special donations from private libraries, or purchases made by individuals, or money with which to buy books, would be most gratefully appreciated. The value of a large and varied Library to students can hardly be estimated. In the very presence of books there is an enlargement of mind. There is an educational force in the mute-bound volumes which will be felt by the student. The large Library furnishes sources for information, means of investigations, and incentives to research and study which are needful in all institutions of learning. The Library will be open at such times as will best suit the convenience of the classes, and by requirement of parallel readings in their class-room studies, they will be compelled to read the standard authors in order to stand well in their classes and comprehend thoroughly their College Course.

Contributions for the Library from the following friends are gratefully acknowledged: A. F. Cooledge, C. H. Richardson, J. T. West, Dr. A. R. Wellborn, T. J. Beck, W. H. Felton, C. Anderson, C. E. Cook, J. M. Moore, J. G. Dalton, W. H. Newman, V. A. Ham, H. L. Bunn, N. B. Hinkle, J. W. Palmer, E. E. Hinkle, S. G. Hillyer, Joseph Shackelford, R. M. Johnston, F. B. Gregory, J. C. Solomon, V. E. Orr, J. A. Carswell, A. T. Spalding, J. T. Smith, T. B. Palmer, Mrs. J. M. Kelley, Miss Sallie Render, W. L. Hawes, J. H. Kilpatrick, J. Sessoms, R. H. Harris, R. E. Lester, W. S. West, M. J. Webb, J. W. Lester, N. B. Hinkle, O. C. Pope.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES.

The Ciceronean and Phi Delta Societies, which furnish occasions for splendid exercise in the heat of discussions and in the war of words, are in a flourishing condition. During the past year their halls have been refitted and furnished anew. The large attendance at College has enabled them to have an unusual enthusiasm in their literary contests. A generous rivalry exists, which fills both with life and energy. The anniversaries and public debates excite an interest in the prosperity of the Societies, which has a beneficial influence upon the members.

These Societies constitute no small part of the educational forces which are applied to the students. They supply opportunities for the exercise of self-confidence, and induce wide and earnest investigation in the topics discussed, and give the participants exercise in the arena of parliament and polemics. Each has a splendid Library, to which additions are being made annually.

LECTURE ASSOCIATION.

In order to enlist the interest of prominent men in the cause of education, and to give inspiration to our students, as well as secure for them instruction on topics of general importance, there will be a public lecture given every fortnight in the College Chapel on some interesting theme. The addresses will be semi-scientific and historical, and though intended for instruction, yet it is expected that they will furnish entertainment that is intellectual and pure. In addition to the contribution which the lecturer will make to the hour, after the lecture, the evening will be spent in social intercourse. In this way the College society will be improved, and a most wholesome influence exerted over the students.

The social life of the students will thus be projected upon a plane that is freer from those features which are so dangerous to the character of the young man at College. These "after receptions" may be held under the auspices of the different classes, or of the Literary Societies, or of the Fraternities, each in turn.

Among the distinguished men whose services have already been engaged for one lecture or more are: Hon. J. C. C. Black, of Augusta, Ga.; Dr. M. H. Lane, of Alabama; Dr. T. P. Bell, of Virginia; Dr. J. William Jones, of Atlanta; Professor J. T. Derry, of Macon; Dr. O. F. Flippo, of Virginia; Dr. J. B. Hawthorne, of Atlanta; Hon. Jonathan Haralson, of Alabama; Judge Emory Speer, of Georgia; Rev. R. J. Willingham, D. D., of Memphis, Tenn.; Judge Samuel Lumpkin, LL.D., of Georgia; Rev. D. W. Gwinn, D.D., LL. D., of Virginia; Hon. W. H. J. Ham, of Georgia; Dr. C. E. W. Dobbs, Cartersville, Ga.; Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia; Rev. S. A. Goodwin, D. D., of Savannah, Ga.

RELIGIOUS ADVANTAGES.

MERCER UNIVERSITY is founded upon a belief in the existence and authority of God, and in the divinity of Jesus Christ. In its history it has recognized His claims and accepted the Bible as His revelation to man. It holds that the education of the mind cannot with safety be separated from moral and religious instruction. While sectarianism is not imposed upon any student, his denominational preferences being conscientiously respected, yet he is made to feel that God is the Maker and Sovereign, and that the Bible is the supreme standard of right, and to conform heartily to its teachings is the duty of every man. Hence, students are required to attend public worship on the Sabbath in the Churches of their choice, also the religious services which are conducted by some member of the Faculty every morning in the Chapel. It is with pleasure that we record the fact that these services are cheerfully attended, and decently and reverently observed. A large majority of our students are orderly members of Evangelical Churches, and honestly endeavor to make their deportment consistent with their profession. The student of obscene and vulgar speech, or of base, irregular habits, must reform, or he is left alone by other students and brought under discipline by the Faculty.

The "Young Men's Prayer Meeting," a voluntary Association, conducted by one of the students, is well attended, and is found to be helpful to those who are trying to lead godly lives. The "Mercer Missionary Society" is a voluntary organization composed of students, and has for its objects the dissemination of missionary information and the cultivation of the missionary spirit. The Society also appoints religious meetings to be held on Sunday afternoons in destitute portions of the city. These engagements make a good training school, and many young men go forth imbued with a desire to do good, and by this practice are qualified for efficient service in other fields.
